ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

FINAL

Vol. 83. No. 139. (83rd Year) ST. LOUIS, SATURDAY, MAY 20, 1961 —18 PAGES PRICE 7c IN METROPOLITAN ST. LOUIS

TYPES OF PLACES COMING UNDER ANTI-BIAS LAW TO BE LISTED

Anti-Discrimination Division to Define Extent of Ordinance — Mayor Pleased by Bill's Passage.

A list of types of places which will be open to the general public without racial or religious discrimination as the result of passage of the public accommodations bill will have to be prepared by the new Anti-Discrimination Division of the St. Louis Council on Human Relations, city officials said today.

The division is provided for in the measure which was passed yesterday by the Board of Aldermen by a vote of 20 to 4. Three aldermen were absent when the vote was taken and two others abstained.

Places of public accommodation are prohibited by the act from refusing service to anyone because of race, color, religious belief, ancestry or national origin.

Places Ruled Out.

Lawyers at City Hall said the definition of these places included all establishments which have their doors open to the public but does not include those in which a landlord-tenant relationship exists, such as flats, apartments and rooming houses.

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker acclaimed the passage of the administration-backed measure by the Board of Aldermen as a significant forward step in the field of human relations in St. Louis.

"We cannot remove overnight the difficulties created by past patterns of social action," he said. "We must, however, fix a firm program toward the elimination of these difficulties and vigorously pursue that program."

Declaring passage of the bill was a key part of such a program, Mayor Tucker offered his congratulations to the St. Louis Human Relations Council and various other groups that have supported the bill as well as to the aldermen for their "overwhelming approval" of the bill.

Places Defined.

Places of public accommodation are defined in the bill as "all places or businesses offering or holding out to the general public services or facilities for the peace, comfort, health, welfare and safety of such general public, including but not limited to public places providing food, shelter, recreation and amusement."

The bill establishes an Anti-Discrimination Division in the St. Louis Council on Human Relations which will consist of five members of the council.

Complaints of violations must be addressed to the division, which will make an investigation. If there is probable cause for believing a violation had occurred, the division will attempt to have it corrected through a conference with the violator.

If these efforts are unsuccessful, the division will issue a cease and desist order, from which the violator can appeal to the council. If no action is taken and the violation continues, the case can be certified by the division to the city counselor for appropriate legal action. If an appeal is taken and the finding of a violation is affirmed, the council must send the case to the city counselor.

Penalty for a court conviction is a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $500.

Astronaut a Pilot Again

SHEPARD TAKES ANOTHER RIDE, IN JET TRAINER

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP) —Navy Comdr. Alan B. Shepard and a fellow astronaut arrived last night in a jet trainer, but they would say little about their presence here.

"It's just a routine flight. We just want to get in some practice," said Shepard, who rode a missile capsule 115 miles high and 300 miles downrange at Cape Canaveral May 5.

With him as co-pilot aboard the T-33 trainer was Air Force Capt. Donald Slayton.

Reporters asked how long they would be here.

"We might go back in an hour," said Shepard. But he and Slayton rode off in an automobile with a man wearing an Airesearch Co. jacket. Airesearch is an aircraft service firm at International Airport.

Shepard checked over the plane after landing. When photographers took his picture, he said, "That wasn't nice, was it, fellows?" From then on he said not a word in reply to reporters' questions.

NUMBER DRAWING JOBLESS PAY NEAR FEBRUARY RECORD

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) —The number of idle workers drawing unemployment benefits is climbing back close to the record 3,422,300 of mid-February.

The Department of Labor reported yesterday the eleventh weekly decline in benefit recipients under regular state programs. The number dropped by 115,100 to 2,494,900 in the week ended May 6.

But the number of beneficiaries under the Federal Government's temporary extended benefit plan rose in the same week by 59,400 to 737,900. This total combined with the 2,494,900 recipients under regular programs makes an aggregate 3,232,800 drawing benefits.

KENNEDY GOES TO VIRGINIA FOR WEEKEND AT ESTATE

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP) — President Kennedy went to Middleburg, Va., this afternoon for a weekend of rest and relaxation at his country estate there.

He left the White House by helicopter shortly after 1 p.m. He plans to return Monday. Mrs. Kennedy and the two Kennedy children, Caroline and John F. Jr., went to Middleburg yesterday.

URGES STRICT OBSERVANCE OF PEDESTRIAN LAW

Traffic Chief Says Three Fourths of Accidents Could Have Been Prevented.

Strict observance of St. Louis's pedestrian safety law would have prevented almost three fourths of the city's pedestrian traffic accidents last year, Traffic Commissioner Ellis C. Henry said today.

Henry, in announcing a new traffic safety campaign, said 660 pedestrians were killed and 16,636 were injured on St. Louis streets in the 10-year period ended last Dec. 31. Sixty-three died and 1565 were injured last year.

St. Louis had the second worst record among 19 large United States cities for pedestrian deaths in the years 1956 through 1959, Henry said. These were cities ranging from 500,000 to 1,000,000 population.

In the four-year period, 64 per cent of the fatal traffic accidents here involved pedestrians. The average in the 19 cities was 55 per cent.

More St. Louis pedestrians were killed and injured last year than in any year since 1956, when there were 68 deaths and 1582 injuries.

Police enforcement of the new pedestrian law, which was enacted by the Board of Aldermen early in 1960, began last June 1.

Provisions of Law.

The law requires a motorist to come to a full stop when a pedestrian is in a crosswalk at an intersection. The driver cannot move until the crosswalk on his side of the street is clear. The only exceptions are at intersections controlled by traffic lights or policemen.

A pedestrian has the right of way at traffic lights when the motorist is making a left or right turn.

The law prohibits a pedestrian from suddenly leaving the curb when an approaching vehicle is so close it is impractical for the motorist to stop. A pedestrian is also in violation if he crosses the street anywhere but at an intersection except where the crosswalk is more than 150 feet away.

Fears Depression in Manhattan If U.S. Cuts Tax-Free Expenses

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)— A proposed government crackdown on expense account living, says a New York restaurant operator, might turn midtown Manhattan into a distressed area.

The threat that free spenders may lose tax-deductible expense accounts already has chased many of them from lavish restaurants and bars, Vincent Sardi Jr. said yesterday.

The effects will not be limited to New York City if Congress follows President Kennedy's recommendation and sets tax limits for expense account wining, dining and entertaining, Sardi said.

"This will kill convention business in cities like Chicago, New Orleans, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Miami," Sardi told the House Ways and Means Committee.

Sardi said setting a $4 to $7 limit on business entertainment meals and ruling out tax deductions on food and drink items not directly related to a business deal were going too far. There may be abuses, he said, but "you wouldn't fight juvenile delinquency, for example, by abolishing children."

Sardi and a number of other witnesses opposing Mr. Kennedy's tax proposal argued that the present law permitting ordinary and necessary expenses is adequate if enforced. The witnesses contended business men should not be deprived unduly of discretion as to what is necessary to their operations.

FREEDOM RIDERS BADLY BEATEN BY WHITE MOB IN MONTGOMERY

Police Show Up Late— Commissioner 'Not Standing Guard for Bunch of Trouble-Makers.'

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 20 (AP)—A screaming mob attacked a racially mixed group of bus "freedom riders" in a bloody street brawl today.

Fighting raged near the bus station in downtown Montgomery for 10 minutes before police arrived to break it up. Whether anyone was arrested was not immediately determined.

One Negro was left unconscious in the street and reporter Maylon Nicholson of the Alabama Journal said an ambulance called to the scene of the rioting refused to pick him up.

Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan, who arrived on the scene 15 minutes after the rioting broke out, was questioned by a reporter.

"We respond to a call here just like we would any place else," he said. "But we have no intention of standing police guard for a bunch of trouble-makers coming into our city making trouble."

3 Severely Beaten.

A later check showed that about six of the 22 riders had been beaten, three severely. The others in the group scattered momentarily and returned to the bus station after police arrived. None of those injured was identified immediately.

Two white women who got off the integrated bus started walking through a lot.

A gang of white women chased after them, shouting and swinging at them with their hands and with purses.

Men behind the women yelled, "Hit 'em, hit 'em again."

A white man moved in to try to break up the attack, and the shouting men moved in on him, knocking him down, kicked him repeatedly, and left him on the ground unconscious.

Bus Ahead of Schedule.

A mob of about 200 white persons was waiting when the Greyhound bus arrived — ahead of schedule — from Birmingham, where another group, bound on testing bus station segregation, ran into violence last Sunday.

The white and Negro riders were on the bus when it left Birmingham after three previously unsuccessful attempts to get passage to Montgomery. Bus drivers earlier had refused to make the trip.

Photographers also were attacked by the mob, and their cameras battererd. One television cameraman was shoved to the ground by a white man in the mob and kicked as he struggled to regain his feet.

One group of white men threw a Negro to the ground and pummeled him. The Negroes finally managed to get away and ran from the Greyhound bus station with the white crowd in pursuit.

No uniformed police were visible as the fight started.

The Negroes sought refuge behind an iron railing at the bus station. The white crowd jumped over the railing and started shoving, then beating the Negroes.

One Negro girl wept uncontrollably as the violence grew.

At one time, 10 or 15 white persons were beating one Negro as he struggled on the ground.

The riders returned to the station area a few minutes later—bloody and beaten.

BOY, 11, WITH ONE SHARE, SPEAKS UP AT G.M. MEETING

WILMINGTON, Del., May 20 (AP)— An 11-year-old General Motors stockholder stood up and spoke out yesterday for his voting right at the annual meeting of America's largest industrial concern.

Steven Goldstein of Wilmington, who holds one of the 280,803,250 outstanding G.M. shares, grabbed a microphone and told Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner, "I was refused a ballot. How old do you have to be to vote?"

Donner replied, "I don't think you will have any difficulty now if you are a stockholder."

Young Goldstein, who was attending his first G.M. meeting, had mailed in a proxy vote supporting management against a proposal to elect directors by secret ballot. The proposal later was defeated.

Discussion at the meeting prompted him to seek to change his vote in favor of the proposal. This, he said, he was unable to do until Donner intervened.

MRS. ROOSEVELT, REUTHER OFFER FUND DRIVE FOR CASTRO CAPTIVES

Dr. Eisenhower Joins in Cable to Premier —Plan Is to Exchange 500 Tractors for 1200 Prisoners.

DETROIT, May 20 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower and Walter P. Reuther told Fidel Castro today they would raise funds to provide 500 tractors for Cuba if Castro releases 1200 prisoners he says were captured in the April invasion of the island.

United Auto Workers union headquarters announced that a message making the offer to Castro was cabled to the Premier. It was signed by Mrs. Roosevelt, Dr. Eisenhower, who is president of Johns Hopkins University, and Reuther, who is president of the UAW.

The announcement did not say which of the three initiated the proposal.

Reuther said, "If we get an affirmative response from Castro as we sincerely hope we will, Mrs. Roosevelt, Dr. Eisenhower and I will take immediate steps to establish a national committee to raise the necessary funds and work out arrangements for receiving contributions."

Proposal in Cable.

The cable to Castro said the proposal was "in response to the offer you made in your address before the National Association of Small Farmers to release 1200 freedom fighters in exchange for 500 agricultural tractors." It continued:

"We are prepared to assume the responsibility for raising from private non-governmental sources the funds needed to purchase 500 agricultural tractors, and we are prepared to meet with your representatives in New York City or any other mutually convenient place for the purpose of working out the details.

"We make this proposal not as a response to a demand for political ransom but out of common humanity. We do this as proof that free men will not desert those who risk all for what they thought was right. We are motivated equally by a deep sense of friendship for the Cuban people and a desire to assist them in a practical way to increase their agricultural production and to raise their living standards.

"If you are prepared to accept our proposal, we shall take immediate steps to raise the necessary funds on a voluntary basis by calling upon the workers who build the tractors, the companies in the tractor industry, and the American people generally, all to make their respective contributions."

Reuther's union represents workers in many United States plants that make farm machinery.

The UAW announcement gave no estimate on the amount of money that would have to be raised to purchase 500 tractors for Cuba. Retail prices of farm tractors range upward from $2500.

CASTRO SENDING GROUP TO U.S.

KEY WEST, Fla., May 20 (AP)—A committee of prisoners captured in the recent invasion of Cuba will be sent to the United States tomorrow to arrange for the ransom of their companions, Prime Minister Fidel Castro said today.

Castro, speaking on television from Havana, said that 1200 prisoners captured in the April 17 attack would be exchanged "in increasing order of importance" for 500 bulldozers.

The Cuban leader said he had

COMPOSER GETS PATENT ON SHORT SMOKES PACKAGE

© New York Times News Service

WASHINGTON, May 20—Hoagy Carmichael, the composer, was awarded a patent this week for a special package that holds short cigarettes. He believes packs of "shorties" will appeal to smokers who like to stop after a few puffs.

Instead of the usual 20 cigarettes, the Carmichael package hold 40 that are half the length of the usual king size.

Carmichael explained in his patent application that many a cigarette smoker is satisfied with a puff or two and then discards the cigarette. "For example," he said, "some well-known golfers, characteristically and habitually, light a cigarette while lining up a putt. They then toss the cigarette away."

WORLD LEADERS HOPEFUL BUT CAUTIOUS OF CHANCES FOR SUCCESS AT SUMMIT

SOME INDICATE LITTLE MAY BE ACCOMPLISHED AT VIENNA TALKS

Most of British Press Favorable — Some Papers in West Germany and Japan Suspicious.

LONDON, May 20 (AP)—There was hope in the world today that the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in Austria two weeks from now would ease international tension, but there was caution also about expecting any momentous results.

"It's the Vienna waltz," said the London Daily Sketch over a cartoon showing the United States President and the Soviet Premier dancing together.

India's Philosopher-statesman, Vice President Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan, said the future of humanity is at stake in these cruel times.

"One of our ancient scriptures tells us that when danger is near, salvation also is near," he said in a New Delhi banquet for visiting United States Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home told reporters that to meet Mr. Kennedy "is a salutary experience for anybody . . . and we hope very much that good will come out of this meeting."

Will Stop in London.

Mr. Kennedy will call at London for talks with Prime Minister Macmillan after his meeting with Khrushchev June 3 and 4.

There was no direct comment from French President De Gaulle. Members of his official family said he had neither any objections nor any enthusiasm for the meeting. President Kennedy will meet with De Gaulle in Paris and go from these talks to see Khrushchev.

The government press bureau in Bonn said West German Chancellor Adenauer welcomes the meeting and thinks Khrushchev and Mr. Kennedy should get to know one another.

The Japanese Foreign Office also approved of the summit meeting as a chance to ease world tension.

A Yugoslav spokesman said the Tito government hopes the Kennedy-Khrushchev conference will contribute to peace and better international co-operation.

"We have in the past spoken several times on the usefulness of (such) meetings," said the spokesman, Drago Kunc, in Belgrade.

Applauded in Britain.

Most of the British press applauded the encounter. The London Daily Express said editorially that the gap since an American and a Russian leader last met has been too long and unprofitable.

"This time there is the prospect that the exchange will be businesslike and informal with a minimum of competitive appeals to the gallery," the Express said.

The Daily Telegraph's correspondent in Washington regretted that the Vienna meeting will not include other world chiefs. It's like the Himalayan mountaineers who don't actually set foot on a lofty summit for fear of offending local deities, he said.

"In this case, the deities are the other powers who will not be represented in Vienna," the British correspondent explained.

A few newspapers in West Germany and Japan were suspicious of the motives and logic in such a meeting.

'Must Chew Own Words.'

Said the Frankfurter Rundschau:

"After a mere four months in office, President Kennedy and (Secretary of State) Dean Rusk must chew their own words. When Kennedy and Rusk took office, both vowed they were opposed to a hasty, not well prepared summit meeting with Khrushchev.

"The meeting had to come. It came rather suddenly and it appears that it hasn't been well prepared either."

Japan's Yomiuri urged in an editorial:

"What the world presently desires is not a 'Geneva spirit' or a 'Camp David spirit' but to see these spirits actually applied to

RISE IN BRITISH TRADE PREDICTED BY KHRUSHCHEV

© New York Times News Service

MOSCOW, May 20 — Premier Khrushchev attended the opening yesterday of a British trade fair in Moscow's Sokolniki park and told its organizers he thought the Soviet Union "will buy all that Great Britain would like to sell us and all that we need."

Khrushchev and his colleagues showed interest in heavy machinery and electronic and scientific equipment.

The Russians complained that the big United States national exhibition held at the same site two years ago did not show enough of the industrial achievements and concentrated too much on consumer goods.

MUSIC, POLITICS RUNNING INTO VIENNA CONFLICT

The New York Herald Tribune-Post-Dispatch Special Radio.

WASHINGTON, May 20—Peace and harmony may clash in Vienna week after next. The Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting is scheduled there June 3 and 4. The Vienna Music Festival will be held at the same time.

The music lovers booked their hotel space long in advance. Now, they may lose their rooms.

The White House may ask the Austrian government to turn over two hotels to provide quarters for the diplomats and reporters at the Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, and Kenneth O'Donnell, special presidential assistant, are flying to Vienna Monday to iron out the accommodations problem.

WOMEN'S GROUP SUPPORTS EQUAL RIGHTS FOR MEN, TOO

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP) —The California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs has long crusaded for equal rights for women. Now it seeks equal rights for men.

Mrs. Zella Stone of Upland, state president, said yesterday at the state convention that the federation supports a legislative bill that would give California male workers 10-minute rest periods every four hours.

FRANCE OPENS PEACE TALKS WITH ALGERIANS

Troops Ordered to Shoot Only in Self-Defense — Bombings in Paris, Algeria.

EVIAN-LES-BAINS, France, May 20 (AP)—France and the Algerian rebels opened peace talks today and the De Gaulle government made two conciliatory gestures.

1. French forces in Algeria were ordered to cease at 6 p.m. all offensive operations against the rebels they have been fighting for almost seven years.

2. Algerian rebel chieftain Ahmed Ben Bella was flown from a prison on the Ile d'Aix to a site closer to the peace talks in this Lake Geneva resort city.

It was reported that word already has been passed to the 500,000 soldiers in Algeria to fire only in self defense. It was understood patrols would continue for reconnaissance purposes.

In Tunis, the Algerian rebel government in exile termed the French-ordered cease-fire an act of propaganda by which the rebels are not bound. A rebel statement said a cease-fire could only be negotiated by two parties.

Captives Moved.

Ben Bella was taken off the island in the Bay of Biscay by helicopter with his companions Hocine Ait Ahmed and Mohamed Khidder. All three men were seiezd in 1956 when their Moroccan airliner en route to Tunisia was intercepted by French fighter planes over the Mediterranean and forced to land at Algiers.

The improved conditions ordered for the three men will allow them to get in touch with the rebel delegation in Geneva by telephone. Later, Ben Bella may be allowed to sit in on the

$75,000 Allotted to Shed Light On How to Set Up Camp on Moon

BALTIMORE, May 20 (AP)— The National Aeronautics and Space Administration awarded the Martin Co. a $75,000 contract yesterday to study the problems of landing men on the moon and establishing a camp.

The study, which the company expects to complete in three months, is an extension of planning for Project Apollo, to orbit a three-man capsule around the moon. Preliminary studies of the Apollo project were completed earlier this week.

Martin calls the latest project Earth-Lunar Transport and says it will involve getting men to the moon and back, quartering three men on the moon for 30 days and later establishing a permanent moon base for up to 12 men.

The company says time and money estimates for actual completion of such a mission still are in doubt. A spokesman said NASA costs for the next 10 years have been estimated as high as 30 billion dollars, a figure which presumably would include the moon base.

U.S. SAYS REDS AT GENEVA WANT ASIANS TO YIELD TO DICTATORSHIP

Neutrality and Unity Mean Domination in Communists' Language, Spokesman Asserts.

© New York Times News Service

GENEVA, May 20—The United States charged the Communist powers at the Laos conference last night with seeking the unresisting surrender of the peoples of Southeast Asia to "Communist dictatorship."

In the strongest statement it has made here, the United States delegation said that "a pacific, neutral and unified Laos in Communist language really means a Laos always dominated from the outside by communism."

"Examples of pacific, unified Communist states may be found in Mongolia, Tibet, the Baltic states and other Eastern countries, the United States spokesman declared.

The Communist powers around the conference table in the Palace of Nations—the Soviet Union, Communist China, Poland and North Viet Nam—were accused of trying to get "the free peoples of Southeast Asia to hand themselves over without resistance to Communist dictatorship."

Attack on SEATO.

The United States statement was issued shortly after the close of the fifth session of the conference. It followed a violent attack by Ung Van Khiem, leader of the delegation from Communist North Viet Nam, against the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization and United States and Western policy in that area.

Khiem's speech was described by a British diplomat as "tedious and unconstructive." He and other Western diplomats said that Marshal Chen Yi, Communist China's foreign minister, slept through most of his ally's speech.

The head of the Chinese delegation awoke and listened, however, when Vu Van Mau, foreign minister of South Viet Nam, described the North Viet Namese military intervention in his country.

Despite the charges and counter-charges, yesterday's meeting managed to accomplish one piece of business.

Message Agreed On.

The two co-chairmen, the Earl of Home, Britain's Foreign Secretary, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, agreed on the text of a message to the International Control Commission in Laos.

The message asked the commission to inform the chairmen of its technical requirements for facilitating the exercise of its functions.

Laotian participation in the conference was complicated further by the arrival of four more groups, each representing a right-wing faction in the country. Spokesman for the groups said they would like to attend the conference.

Meanwhile, some Western leaders have begun their departures.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk took off by plane for Washington today, leaving the American delegation at the conference in the hands of Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman. Rusk did not make any statement on his departure.

Lord Home flew to London, leaving the British delegation under the leadership of Malcolm MacDonald.

Others to depart were V. K. Krishna Menon, India's Defense Minister. French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and Howard C. Green of Canada.

Menon Optimistic.

Krishna Menon was the most optimistic of the departing ministers. He said prospects for agreement are favorable.

A leading member of the United States delegation said he hoped that in the next two weeks the working committees appointed by the conference would be able to reduce the differences between the Soviet and Western proposals for the composition, authority and scope of the International Control Commission.

Months of haggling over Laos loom before an agreement can be reached to guarantee that country's future as an independent and neutral nation.

Rusk plans to return to the conference if the negotiations approach an agreement.

Before leaving for Washington, Rusk conferred with Arthur H. Dean, United States nuclear test bar negotiator. Later Dean also headed for Washington to report to President Kennedy on the deadlocked nuclear talks.

GARY COOPER'S WILL FILED

LOS ANGELES, May 20 (AP)—Actor Gary Cooper left most of his estate, believed to be worth more than $1,000,000, to his widow, daughter and mother.

His will, signed last Feb. 27 when he knew he was dying of cancer, was filed yesterday in superior court for probate. The 60-year-old movie star died last Saturday.

Johnson in Pakistan, Pledges Support Against Communism

KARACHI, Pakistan, May 20 (UPI)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson pledged today that the United States would stand steadfast beside Pakistan and other free and independent nations against Communist encroachments.

Describing his tour of Asian countries as a mission of confidence, Johnson said "my confidence that freedom will prevail has been fortified at every point by the high order of resolve, determination and reponsibility I have found."

The Vice President and his wife arrived for a 24-hour visit from India where Johnson conferred with Indian Prime Minister Nehru.

He was expected to discuss with Pakistani leaders the increasing Communist pressures in Southeast Asia and elsewhere. The United States and Pakistan are partners in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

Johnson began conferring with President Mohammed Ayub Khan shortly after his arrival.

Later, Johnson was to make an address at a civic reception and attend a state banquet.

In an airport speech, Johnson said America would "stand steadfast beside those who stand steadfastly against encroachments upon free and independent people."

This was Johnson's last working stop after a two-week, 28,500-mile Asian tour. Tomorrow he will go to Athens.

FHA DISCOURAGES BUILDING HOMES BY JET AIRPORTS

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—The Federal Housing Administration has decided against insuring mortgages on homes in noisy areas near jet airports. Neal Hardy, FHA administrator, has sent field offices a directive saying that a home where jet noises would reach 100 decibels should normally be considered an unsound risk.

The directive states: "The FHA concurs in the conclusion of the Federal Aviation Agency that areas of 100 decibels of sound are not acceptable for residential development. It likewise follows that adjoining areas will be affected by noise of lesser intensity, and judgment on proposals in these areas will be judged accordingly."

FHA field offices were instructed to consult with the FAA about noise levels near airports.

KENNEDY WANTS TO TIGHTEN LAW GUARDING UNION FUNDS

WASHINGTON, May 20 (UPI)—President Kennedy has asked Congress to put more teeth into a three-year-old law aimed at preventing abuses of union welfare and pension funds. The measure has failed to do the job as it stands, he said yesterday.

A study of the operation and effect of the 1958 law "has disclosed several serious deficiencies," Mr. Kennedy wrote in a letter including his proposed legislation to the House and Senate. An accompanying letter from Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg said the existing bill "is not achieving either its disclosure or its reporting objectives in a satisfactory manner."

Mr. Kennedy asked Congress to "give the Secretary of Labor the investigative and enforcement authority which he needs to implement the legislation and make it effective."

ATLAS EXPLODES AFTER TEST

SAN DIEGO, Calif., May 20 (UPI)—An Atlas intercontinental ballistics missile exploded yesterday at the Sycamore canyon site after an engine run in which the missile was anchored to a test stand.

There were no casualties and minor flames were quickly extinguished. Officials said the missile was destroyed. There was only minor damage to the test stand. The cause of the explosion was unknown.

4 UNION EX-OFFICERS GET PRISON TERMS

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP)—The former head of the Newspaper and Mail Deliverers Union and three of his associates were sentenced to federal prison yesterday for a $70,000 shakedown of newspaper distributors.

Attorney General Robert Kennedy, when a Senate investigator, aided in the inquiry two years ago that led to their indictment.

Sam Feldman, 42 years old, former president of the deliverers, led the 1958 strike of his union which stopped publication of New York newspapers for 19 days. His sentence of a year and a day, however, was for the unrelated extortion.

A year and a day sentence was also meted to a former union business agent, Angelo Lospinuso, 45. Two other former business agents, William Walsh and Harry Waltzer, each 61, were sentenced to three years each.

United States District Judge Edward Weinfeld told the four:

"These men abused the power entrusted to them by membership. They used the power of office not for the purpose of representation of employes, but to feather their own nests. When that conduct is engaged in, it casts a dark shadow over the character of union leaders in the entire labor movement."

Feldman was convicted of extorting $45,000 from Suburban Wholesalers Association Inc., in 1957. The Government said he warned the firm to "come across or there won't be a contract."

The other three obtained $25,000 from the same firm in 1955, under threat of labor strikes.

Feldman, after the 1958 strike, lost a bid for re-election as president of the deliverers.

RUSSIA PLANNING ROCKET FIRINGS FROM SATELLITE

MOSCOW, May 20 (AP)—Matislav Keldysh, new president of the Soviet Academy of Sciences, said last night Russians have applied a new principle of space vehicle launchings: "The start of a guided cosmic rocket from aboard a heavy artificial earth satellite."

Keldysh, a mathematician, was quoted by Tass news agency as telling a meeting of the academy:

"Such a method (of launching) has opened up a new possibility for interplanetary flights. In this case, there is no longer any need to select certain dates for flights to the moon.

"The possibility is opened up of launching heavier space vehicles toward Venus and other planets. The restrictions created by the fact that not all launching site on earth are equally favorable for the flight are removed."

Keldysh, awarded the Order of Lenin in February with special mention of his contributions to aircraft design, succeeded Alexander N. Nesmeyanov, who headed the academy since 1951. Tass said Nesmeyanov asked to be relieved for reasons of health.

INGRID BERGMAN, ROSSELLINI SETTLE CHILD CUSTODY ROW

ROME, May 20 (UPI)—A bitter three-year court fight between Ingrid Bergman and director Robert Rossellini over custody of their three children ended today with an agreement that each parent should have the children for a year at a time.

The Swedish movie star and the Italian director sealed the agreement with a handshake.

Rosselini agreed to turn the three children over to his former wife for the 1961-62 school year. Miss Bergman said she will take the 8-year-old twins, Isabella and Isotta, and 11-year-old Robertino, to Paris. Miss Bergman is married to Swedish theatrical producer Lars Schmidt, her third husband.

DE GAULLE FLIES TO BONN TO TALK WITH ADENAUER

BONN, May 20 (UPI)—President De Gaulle flew here from Paris today for a day-long conference with Chancellor Adenauer. Adenauer and several members of his cabinet met De Gaulle at the airport.

The two men said in brief airport statements that they believed their talks would help to promote European co-operation. The main topic of the talks was expected to be the Frenchman's proposals for political as well as economic co-operation among the Common Market nations.

NAVY MAN DENIES MILITARY FULLY OK'D CUBA PLANS

Says No Officer in Right Mind Would Have Approved Invasion Strategy.

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—A Navy officer, angered by efforts to blame top military men for the Cuban debacle, said today, "No military man in his right mind would have approved the plans that were carried out."

The officer, who cannot be identified, is well acquainted with the Navy's member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Adm. Arleigh Burke.

In general, the officer's opinion coincided with that reportedly expressed recently by former President Eisenhower.

What stirred the Navy officer into speaking was the statement by Senator Albert Gore (Dem.), Tennessee, that "we direly need a new chairman and members" of the Joint Chiefs.

Gore's comment came after Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, testified yesterday in closed session before the Senate's Latin American Affairs subcommittee.

There have been reports that Lemnitzer and Burke were the chief proponents of the anti-Castro Cuban invasion, which failed.

The officer said he was "sick" of efforts to pin the blame for the Cuban fiasco on the military and the full story should be told.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has forbidden members of the Joint Chiefs to defend themselves in public or even to explain publicly the role of the military in the Cuban operation.

Eisenhower, at a meeting with Republican leaders at his Gettysburg (Pa.) farm on May 1, reportedly wondered aloud if the Joint Chiefs had been consulted in any detail about the invasion.

He is said to have observed that some of the details of the invasion were inconceivable to him as a military man.

In any case, the Navy officer said, "the Joint Chiefs did not fully staff the Cuban invasion"; that is, they did not participate in the detailed planning.

Further, he said, "the Joint Chiefs gave their approval contingent upon the complete accuracy of the information supplied by the Central Intelligence Agency."

This CIA information, he said, "predicted a mass uprising in support of the invasion forces.

"If this information was incorrect," he continued, "the Joint Chiefs said clearly that the United States would have to support the invasion with sea and air power."

In the end, he reported, "the plans for the invasion were changed and the Joint Chiefs were not advised of the changes. No military man in his right mind would have approved the plans that were carried out."

The April 17 invasion was carried out by a force, ill-equipped and without air cover save for a few World War II B-26 bombers. They were opposed by about 30,000 regular troops armed with tanks and protected overhead by American-built jet trainers.

At one point it seemed clear that the Navy was prepared to support the anti-Castro forces if Washington gave the go-ahead.

SOUTH KOREAN PRESIDENT SAYS HE WILL STAY

Bows to Rebels' Pleas — Gives Constitutional Status to New Military Regime.

SEOUL, Korea, May 20 (AP)—Bowing to pleas of rebel generals, President Yun Po-sun withdrew today his one-day old resignation to give South Korea's new military regime constitutional status.

The 63-year-old statesman announced that he had agreed to stay on as the civilian figurehead chief-of-state to avoid "international repercussions."

Foreign diplomats are accredited to the president and United States officials take the view that Yun remaining in office would make recognition of the new regime automatic.

The president announced withdrawal of his resignation at a press conference. He was flanked by two top leaders of the ruling junta — Lt. Gen. Chang Do-yung, who named himself premier and defense minister earlier in the day, and Maj. Gen. Pak Jung-hi.

Gen. Chang, 38, in taking over as premier named a 15-man cabinet of all military men.

Criticizes Revolt.

The presence of the revolutionary leaders at his side did not stop Yun from expressing regrets about the revolt that overthrew the elected government.

"The military coup d'etat seems to give the people many encouraging hopes for the future although it was quite regrettable and I wish it had never occurred in this country," he said.

He warned that he would resign again if the new regime takes a direction of which he disapproves.

In night raids the new military regime jailed members of deposed Premier John M. Chang's cabinet and generals who refused to back Tuesday's coup.

The 61-year-old ousted Premier reportedly talked himself out of arrest. He defied military police trying to take him to prison and demanded they produce a warrant signed by Gen. Chang.

Seven of ex-Premier Chang's cabinet ministers, plus the chief cabinet secretary, were picked up by military police just before midnight and taken to the city's West Gate prison.

Competent sources said six unco-operative generals were in custody. There were unverified reports that 15 or more were in jail.

The junta arrested 16 of 18 prosecutors named by the old government to try former officials who served under Syngman Rhee. Rhee was overthrown a year ago in a student-led revolt.

The military then stood on the sidelines.

The prosecutors were told they were being arrested for allegedly engaging in corrupt practices in their investigations of the former Rhee officials.

United States Gen. Carter Magruder, the supreme United Nations commander in Korea, reportedly has demanded that South Korean military units which defied him in overthrowing the elected government return immediately to their positions.

An authoritative source disclosed that Magruder has insisted that South Korea's new military leaders restore to their posts a number of top generals purged by the ruling military junta—or that they be replaced with generals acceptable to him.

Sources close to Magruder said the U.N. Command feels that, although use of troops in the successful coup did not weaken South Korea's defenses against the Communist north, it undermined the authority the U.N. Command has exercised since the start of the Korean war in 1950.

The new military regime decreed strict anti-Communist measures, saying increased activities of the Communists and their sympathizers brought "clear and present danger to the nation's security."

Communist activity is outlawed in South Korea. The new measures are similar to those vainly sought by the ousted government and led to protest demonstrations.

Tightening its grip on the Capitol, the junta fired elderly Seoul Mayor Kim Sang-don, replacing him with Brig. Gen. Yoon Tai-il, one of the five engineers of the coup.

Two days ago Yoon had been named commander of the frontline South Korean Ninth Army.

Jails throughout the nation filled as the junta cracked down. The latest official count had 3500 in custody. These included 2500 so-called hoodlums and 930 suspected of leftist leanings.

Named as foreign minister in Gen. Chang's new cabinet was Lt. Gen. Kim Hong-il, a former ambassador to Nationalist China.

Missile Submarine Sails.

DUNOON, Scotland, May 20 (AP)—The United States nuclear missile submarine George Washington sailed from Holy Loch yesterday two days before a scheduled mass demonstration there by British pacifists. The United States Navy gave no clue to the submarine's destination.

THURMAN A. WHITESIDE

T. A. WHITESIDE KILLS SELF; TV CASE FIGURE

Body Found in Miami Law Office, Pistol in Hand — Ill Health Is Cited.

MIAMI, Fla., May 20 (AP)—Thurman A. Whiteside, Miami attorney and a key figure in the Channel 10 conspiracy case involving Richard A. Mack, former member of the Federal Communications Commission, was found shot to death in his downtown law office yesterday.

Police said Whiteside shot himself with a pistol in the conference room of his office. He was 49 years old.

Whiteside was a native of Indianapolis but had lived in Miami since he was a child. Mack was a schoolmate.

The charge against him and Mack grew out of a congressional investigation in February 1958. He was charged with conspiring to rig the award of Channel 10 at Miami to Public Service Television Inc., a subsidiary of National Airlines.

Was Acquitted.

One count charged that he conspired with Mack and the other that he influenced Mack. In the first trial, with Mack, the jury could not reach agreement. In the second trial, for Whiteside alone, he was found not guilty.

Whiteside, who was graduated from the University of Florida Law School, had served as Miami city attorney and handled the city's $27,100,000 bond issue for a sewage disposal system. Attorneys said his action saved the city many millions in court costs.

Whiteside's law practice consisted largely of rate and utility matters. He was a director of the Pan American Bank. For several years he served as American consul for Panama.

In Marine Corps.

Whiteside served 30 months with the Marine Corps in World War II and saw action on Guam and Iwo Jima.

Dr. Joseph Davis, Dade county medical examiner, said Whiteside telephoned his wife, Ellen, about 1:30 p.m. She became alarmed at the tone of his conversation and called his secretary later.

The secretary found him slumped in a chair, the pistol in his hand.

Dr. Jack Cleveland, Whiteside's physician, said he believed the attorney took his life because of ill health.

Surviving are his wife, who is a former chairman of the Florida Children's Commission, a daughter, Mrs. Garrett Spitzer of Jacksonville, and a son, John, 13.

HEAD OF MAYOR'S GROUP OPPOSES UNION BUILDING CODE PROPOSALS

Says Amendments Would Be Make-Work Measures, Impose Unnecessary Restrictions.

Proposed amendments to the new city building code which were suggested by labor unions should be rejected by the Board of Aldermen, Neal J. Campbell, a consulting engineer who was chairman of the mayor's committee which drafted the code, said today.

Campbell said the amendments, if adopted, would create make-work situations by imposing unnecessary requirements.

The amendments, introduced yesterday, are backed by the Sprinkler Fitters Union, the Pipe Coverers Union and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

They would regulate methods used in installing sprinkler systems, require the use of insulation on the outside of heating and ventilating ducts as well as the inside and require the use of rigid metallic conduits in certain installations in place of the flexible, non-metallic conduits now allowed.

Fears Featherbedding.

Campbell said the proposed amendment to require rigid metallic conduit would create featherbedding because it would impose a safety requirement that national authorities have agreed is not needed.

The proposal to require insulation on the outside of ducts also is unnecessary, Campbell said. "If the insulation is on the inside, sheetmetal workers get the work," he said.

"Now the pipe coverers want it, too. But acoustical treatment is effective only on the inside, so to put it outside is totally unnecessary."

Rejected Earlier.

Campbell noted that all of the union-sponsored amendments had been offered in the course of the debate preceding adoption of the new building code and were rejected.

The aldermen adopted a resolution asking all agencies of government not to release to the public "for private use" information about an arrest of any person unless the arrest results in a conviction or plea of guilty. The resolution has no binding effect.

Alderman Archie Blaine, Sixth ward Democrat, author of the resolution, noted that anyone not convicted must be presumed innocent. He said publication of an arrest not followed by conviction could work a hardship on a person denied employment because of his police record.

Praised by Wayman Smith.

Alderman Wayman F. Smith Jr. (Dem.), Eighteenth ward, said he was voting for the resolution as a step in the right direction, but he expressed the opinion that stronger legislation would be needed to correct the situation.

"Some arrests, particularly in the Twelfth (Page Boulevard) district, seem to be based on pure suspicion," Smith declared. "In fact, I was stopped by police myself several weeks ago and one officer wanted to arrest me because I didn't 'have the right kind of smile' on my face. Luckily, I was spared an arrest because the officer recognized me as an alderman."

Residential Measure.

Alderman Harold I. Elbert (Rep.), Twenty-eighth ward, introduced a bill for an election on a charter amendment that would define more closely the residential requirements for the office of alderman. The charter now requires that an alderman reside in the ward from which he is elected but it leaves the Board of Aldermen the judge of the qualifications of its members.

Elbert's proposed amendment would define residence as the place where the alderman's family permanently resides, or, in case he has no family, where he permanently lodges. It would specifically exclude a mere voting address in the ward if the alderman lived elsewhere.

Elbert has tried unsuccessfully to oust Alderman Alfred I. Harris (Dem.), who maintains a voting address in the Twenty-second ward, which he repersents, but lives in Ladue.

The Ways and Means Committee ordered a public hearing next Wednesday at 10 a.m. in Room 208, City Hall, on a bill to give civil service employes of the city to two-step 10 per cent salary increase.

Waiting in Alabama Bus Station

Attack by Mob

leaned against a wall. Their clothing was bloody. Their faces were cut and bruised.

About 10 uniformed policemen broke up fighting earlier on a street adjacent to the bus station while about five other officers stood in front of the other riders on the loading platform.

Three of the beaten riders, escorted by police, walked over to Commissioner Sullivan's automobile with many of the white crowd still jeering at them.

Other policemen cleared the loading platform of everyone but passengers.

Three of the beaten riders moved away from Sullivan's car and limped over and leaned against a Negro taxicab.

There was no ambulance on the scene at the time. The battered riders apparently were trying to get someone to take them to a hospital.

The taxicab driver was nowhere in sight.

Some of the riders who escaped injury began gathering their belongings and battered suitcases, which were scattered along the driveway behind the station where most of the fighting took place.

Also on the scene 20 minutes after the violence broke out were State Public Safety Director Floyd Mann, Highway Patrol Chief Joe Smelley and a number of state investigators.

About 100 spectators watched from a sidewalk adjacent to the bus station 30 minutes after the fighting.

Still in the middle of the street was on the three smashed cameras belonging to press photographers.

After beating a TV cameraman the mob ran back to the bus station and began beating the negroes who were huddled behind a railing on the loading ramp.

A Life magazine photographer, Don Uhrbrock, was among the cameramen beaten. He said, "the roughs started attacking Moe Levy of NBC News, and after they got his camera, they turned on me. There were about 10 or 12 of them, but only three or four were doing the beating at first. Later some of the others got more courage and joined it."

Urhbrock said he was clubbed to the ground and kicked. Both his cameras were smashed.

FREEDOM GROUP ALONE ON BUS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 20 (AP)—A Greyhound bus pulled out for Montgomery, Ala., today carrying 22 Negro and white youths.

The bus carried only the "freedom riders," a representative of the drivers' union and a company employe.

Birmingham Police Commissioner Eugene Connor said he put a city policeman on the bus to ride to the outskirts of Birmingham.

Only a few onlookers were present when the bus left the station on the 100 mile trip. Many uniformed police were on hand.

Last midnight there were about 3000 in the neighborhood of the station, police said. Police and dogs kept them about a block away from the station, except for those who had bus tickets. Today was the seventh straight day of racial tension in Birmingham.

The youths, most of them college students, stayed in the bus station through the night, at first trying — and failing — to board busses, then decided to call it quits until daylight.

They tried to get on a bus at 5:30 a.m. today, but the bus did not leave because the driver refused to go on the board with them.

"I have only one life to give and I don't intend to give it to C.O.R.E. or the N.A.A.C.P.," said Joe Cavanaugh, the driver. Houever, he was the driver who However, he was the driver who tion three hours later.

The youths entered the station, carrying tickets to Montgomery, Ala., at 2:45 p.m. yesterday.

Busses for Montgomery were not canceled—they just did not leave the station — when the group tried to board them.

The threat of violence remained, as it has since a white mob attacked the so-called freedom riders of the Congress of Racil Equality last Sunday.

President Kennedy reportedly tried—and failed—to reach Alabama Gov. John Patterson, then settled for a talk with Lt. Gov. Albert Bountwell about the explosive stalemate at the bus station. What was said was not disclosed.

At Montgomery, State Judge Judge Walter B. Jones issued an injunction prohibiting "freedom riders" or their supporters from "entry into and travel within the state of Alabama, and engaging in the so-called 'freedom ride' and other acts of conduct calculated to provoke breaches of the peace. . . "

Inside the station, in the early hours, the 19 Negroes and three white persons, most of them college students from Nashville, Tenn., tried to sleep in the white waiting room.

The group is composed of students from several colleges at Nashville, Tenn.—Fisk, American Baptist Theological Seminary, Tennessee A. & I., and Peabody Teachers College—with two who said they were not students.

MRS. CLARE WILLIAMS SAYS G.O.P. IS BEING REVITALIZED

Mrs. Clare B. Williams, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee and a former St. Louisan, told women party workers here yesterday she has noticed a "tremendous resurgence of vitality and enthusiasm" in the party.

Mrs. Williams was in St. Louis on a national tour of Republican women's organizations. She told precinct workers that although the 1962 general election is 18 months away, the time to start working is now.

Politics is a year-round job, Mrs. Williams said, "we must not wait until a month before the election to get busy." Among her talks here was a luncheon address to the First Congressional District Federation of Republican Women at the Pantry Restaurant, 6322 West Florissant avenue.

EAST ST. LOUISAN, BURNED WHEN POLISHING AUTO, DIES

Frank Krug, a retired railroad engineer, died today at Christian Welfare Hospital, East St. Louis, of burns suffered Thursday when his clothing caught fire as he was polishing his automobile with flammable liquid polish.

Police said the polish apparently spilled on Krug's clothing and was ignited by sparks from his pipe. Mrs. Krug was burned on the right hand when she attempted to beat out the flames in the garage at the Krug home, 541 North Twenty-second street, East St. Louis.

Krug, 73 years old, had been an employe of the Southern Railway System for 42 years until his retirement.

HIKE IN HIS TAXES BRINGS COMPLAINT BY LINDENBUSCH

Ben H. Lindenbusch, automobile dealer and unsuccessful Republican candidate for mayor, yesterday protested to the Board of Equalization about an increase in his property taxes. He complained that the city proposed to increase the assessed valuation of his home for the second successive year. He termed it "absolutely unfair."

Harold Jaeger, city assessor and chairman of the board, said Lindenbusch appeared briefly before the board. Jaeger would not divulge the nature of the protest by Lindenbusch, who was defeated by Democratic Mayor Raymond R. Tucker April 4.

Lindenbusch told a reporter he produced bills and receipts showing he paid $866 for 1959 real estate taxes on his three-bedroom home at 6471 Westway road and $909 last year. He said the tax would jump to $932 this year.

"It burns me up to pay more taxes when they're squandering so much money down at City Hall," Lindenbusch exclaimed. "No one with good sense minds paying taxes when they are justified."

FINED FOR DISTURBANCE AND PROPERTY DESTRUCTION

Roland Geistlinger of the 1000 block of Allen avenue was found guilty yesterday of individual peace disturbance and fined $300 by Police Judge Rodney Weiss. He was fined an additional $300 for destruction of property.

Geistlinger's sister, Mrs. Virginia Helton, 10070 Stonell avenue, St. Louis county, testified he struck her with his fists and broke every window of her car with a hammer after a dispute.

Geistlinger made a general denial of all the charges and appealed the convictions.

TWO FOOD SHOP OPERATORS FINED FOR SUNDAY SALES

William I. Smith and Fred Rogers, food shop operators, were fined $50 each by Judge Louis Comerford of the Court of Criminal Correction yesterday on their pleas of guilty to selling non-essential items on Sunday.

Smith, operator of a store at 3701 Aldine avenue, and Rogers, whose food shop is at 3801 Page boulevard, were arrested last March 12 after representatives of the Meatcutters Union purchased sausage at their business establishments.

UMW VIOLATED ANTI-TRUST ACT, U.S. COURT RULES

Union Found Guilty of Conspiring With Big Producers for Coal Monopoly.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 20 (AP)—In a case which may make legal history, a federal court jury has ruled the United Mine Workers Union violated the Sherman anti-trust act.

It was the first time, as far as lawyers in the suit have been able to determine, that a labor union has been adjudged guilty of anti-trust violations on a national scale.

The jury awarded a $90,000 judgment yesterday to a small east Tennessee coal mine firm which had brought the civil action against the union and the trustees of the UMW welfare fund. Under anti-trust laws, the judgment is automatically tripled to $270,000.

Phillips Brothers Coal Co., a now defunct partnership, sued the union and the fund's trustees, charging they conspired with large coal producers to monopolize the soft-coal industry and force small firms out of business.

Started in 1950.

The firm said the alleged conspiracy began in 1950 and was carried out through the 1950 bituminous coal wage agreement, still the industry's basic contract.

Although labor unions normally are exempt from anti-trust laws, as Judge Robert L. Taylor put it in his charge to the jury, "if a union aids and abets businesses and firms" in attempting to restrain trade, the union comes under the jurisdiction of the statutes.

The jury, after 2½ days of deliberation, ruled both defendants conspired to monopolize the industry and restrain trade, damaging Phillips. The case went to the jury Wednesday after a month-long trial.

UMW attorneys said they would file a motion asking the court to set aside the jury's verdict and direct a verdict in favor of the union and the welfare fund. If the motion is denied, the attorneys said, they would appeal.

Sought $56,000.

The case stems from an action filed by the trustees against Phillips seeking $56,000 in back welfare fund royalty payments. Under the union contract, mines are required to pay to the fund 40 cents for each ton of coal produced.

Phillips crossfiled, naming the union and trustees, charging that the royalties were excessive, more than the firm's profits and designed to force small miners out of business.

A similar case, filed by 16 southeast Tennessee coal companies seeking $30,000,000 damages, is pending in the United States district court in Chattanooga. Judge Leslie Darr, however, dismissed the case as it pertains to the fund's trustees.

Phillips charged that the union and major producers conspired to eliminate the smaller and weaker companies in great numbers, leaving the industry to the major companies alone.

None of the large firms was named as defendants in the suit, however.

100 QUESTIONED AS POLICE HUNT KILLERS OF BOY

Two in Custody Said to Own Auto Similar to One Reported at Drug Store.

More than 100 men were questioned today as police pressed a search for the killers of 15-year-old Thomas Grupe in a drug store holdup Thursday night.

Police said two of those in custody were owners of an automobile similar to the 1954 black Ford sedan which sped away from the Speckart drug store, 4100 Natural Bridge avenue, after the shooting.

Persons who noticed the car in the neighborhood before the shooting told police it had a damaged front grill and a gear shift handle in the form of one of a pair of dice.

The three robbers were described as Negroes, one about 45 years old, six feet tall, weighing about 240 pounds and wearing a brown sweater and brown trousers. The others were between 17 and 20 years old, one wearing a tan raincoat, the other a tan jacket.

Meanwhile, rewards totaling more than $1300 were offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the killers.

One fund of more than $1000 was being raised among merchants and friends of the Speckart family. Contributors were asked to send money to Oliver E. Troxler, vice president of Mound City Trust Co., 4401 Natural Bridge.

Herman P. Winkelmann, executive manager of the St. Louis Pharmacists Association, said members had subscribed $300 to to a similar fund and that more money was sought. Donations should be sent to the association office, 5101 Hampton avenue.

Proprietor's Condition.

Paul Speckart, proprietor of the pharmacy, who was shot in the shoulder and beaten by the robbers, was reported in good condition at De Paul Hospital.

He and the Grupe boy were shot as they lay on the basement floor under the store, where the holdup men had forced them to go. Two of the robbers carried sawed-off shotguns and one had an automatic pistol also.

Thomas Grupe was a ninth grade student at O'Fallon Technical High School and worked evenings and weekends as a delivery boy and clerk at the store. He walked into the store, returning from making a delivery, when the robbery was in progress.

Friends of the youth said he had been apprehensive about making deliveries at night and in recent months had carried a small tear gas pistol. Police were unable to find the pistol in his clothing after the shooting.

Victim Lived Nearby.

Thomas lived with his mother, Mrs. Harry L. Grupe, and his brother, Richard, 18, at 4019 Fair avenue, four blocks north of the drug store. Richard is a senior at O'Fallon High and works part time in a machine shop. Their father, a letter carrier, died of leukemia six months ago.

Another brother, Harry, 26 years old, is married and has his own home. A sister, Margie, 24, is Mrs. Arnold McGowan, of Wellington, Kan.

Thomas was described by neighbors as a serious, conscientious boy who had been affected by the death of his father.

Mrs. Grupe said Thomas had insisted that she not be left alone after the elder Grupe died.

"He said he wanted to do what he could to take his father's place," Mrs. Grupe said.

2699 NEW JOBLESS PAY CLAIMS FOR WEEK LOW FOR '61

Claims for unemployment compensation in St. Louis and St. Louis county for the week ended yesterday reached a new 1961 low, Charles G. DeLargy, metropolitan manager of the Missouri Division of Employment Security, announced.

Initial claims for the week totaled 2699, or 1173 below last week but 438 above the comparable week a year ago. Next lowest week for initial claims was April 27, when claims totaled 2969. These are the only two weeks this year that claims in this category have been below 3000.

Continued claims for the week totaled 19,625. This is 1302 less than last week's figure and 6839 higher than a year ago. However, the continued claims figure was the lowest since mid-January. New claims for temporary extended compensation for the week came to 546, and continued claims in this classification reached 5252.

DeLargy said that the over-all economy seems to be improving. He said that seasonal factors are helpful in all sectors of industry. Non-manufacturing continues to be strong, DeLargy noted, and there "are definite signs" of improvement in manufacturing.

INDICTED, CHARGED WITH THREATENING U.S. WITNESS

James W. Boyd, an automobile salesman, was indicted by the United States grand jury yesterday on a charge of threatening a Government witness in a case involving an alleged fake holdup of Mercantile Trust Co. last Dec. 5.

The witness allegedly threatened was Donald McGill, who was not identified further in the indictment. Miss Rubie Nafie, a former teller at the bank, and August Tom Rizzo, a restaurant operator, are charged with conspiracy in theft of $15,226 in the allegedly false holdup.

United States Attorney D. Jeff Lance said Boyd, who was arrested Tuesday, and Rizzo had become acquainted at a used car lot where Boyd worked in the last two years. United States District Judge J. Randolph Weber fixed bond at $50,000. Miss Nafie and Rizzo are scheduled to go to trial June 5. Maximum penalty on the charge against Boyd is a $5000 fine and five years in prison.

TWO PROWLERS SHOT AS THEY TRY TO ESCAPE

One Wounded Seriously by Police and Other Hurt by Watchman in Separate Incidents.

Two prowlers were shot and wounded, one seriously, when fleeing from a policeman and a watchman in separate incidents last night.

Richard Broccard, 21 years old, living in the 3400 block of Victor street, is in serious condition in City Hospital. A policeman's bullet entered his lower back and penetrated the abdomen.

Joseph Wilson, 23, of 2400 block of Coleman street, was admitted to Homer G. Phillips Hospital with a bullet wound in the right leg, inflicted when he fled from a watchman.

Patrolmen Dale Davenport and Gerald Holly, investigating a report that prowlers were in a restaurant at 2252 South Thirty-ninth street, saw Broccard jump out a side window and run through a yard. Davenport fired one shot in the air and a second shot at the fugitive, who vaulted a fence and ran through several yards to 3912 Cleveland avenue, where Holly grabbed him.

The prisoner, who had $72 in his pockets, used abusive language and at first refused to give his name to the officers. Police later went to the Broccard home and arrested Charles E. Bays, 20, of the 2300 block of South Compton avenue. Bays was quoted as admitting he was with Broccard in the restaurant and had fled. They were booked suspected of burglary and stealing.

Archie Claggett, 3544 Page boulevard, discovered a man trying to break into the Claggett home, and chased him. They ran north to Easton avenue, where James Robinson, a watchman, joined the chase.

Robinson fired at the man, who continued running and got away. Police said Wilson, who was arrested after he went to the hospital for treatment, admitted he had attempted to break into the Claggett home, and was shot in the chase. He was booked suspected of attempted burglary.

Irvan Finkelstein, operator of a market at 927 North Newstead avenue, and two clerks were held up yesterday by two men who fled with $85. One robber displayed a pistol.

CAPT. FRANK DE WITT NAMED CHIEF OF POLICE IN VENICE

Detective Capt. Frank DeWitt was named chief of the Venice police department by the city council last night. He succeeds Robert Trower, who resigned recently.

DeWitt has been a member of the department for 21 years.

Letters from the People

Why Refuse Checks?

On May 8 my husband drove to St. Louis. Upon reaching St. Louis University he drove onto West Pine boulevard and found a parking place on the street on the north side in the vicinity of the Pope Pius library.

Because he was unfamiliar with the area he checked the signs carefully. There was one which said "No Parking to Corner." He was past it. Up ahead was one which read "30 M.P.H. Speed Limit." He saw no other signs and because he had parked between two other cars he felt sure he was all right.

It was raining heavily and he could not see the sign far ahead in the middle of the long block which said "No Parking 4-6 p.m." Shortly after 5 p.m. he returned to the parking place to find the car gone. He had our two young sons with him.

They returned to the university speech clinic building and my husband called the police to find out what had become of his car. It was in a towing company yard.

Leaving the two boys at the clinic he walked to the towing yard to obtain his car. It was still raining heavily. The towing charges were $8.55. He had $8.20. He had his checkbook but they accept no checks.

So he walked back to the clinic in the rain. By then everyone else there had gone home and there was nothing to do but call home.

I got a good neighbor who was at home that evening, left three children at home, took my 10-month baby and we drove to St. Louis. We went to the clinic, picked up my husband and boys, took them to the towing yard and I gave my husband the money he needed.

My neighbor drove 69 miles to the speech clinic and back in order that I might take my husband 50 cents, the additional 35 cents he needed for towing charges plus 15 cents bridge toll to get home.

We got home at 9:45 p.m. It had rained all evening and driving was hazardous. My husband had been wet since before 6 o'clock and neither he nor the boys had had any food since noon. Also my baby had been kept up long past her bed time.

There was a $3 fine in addition for illegal parking.

Does not all this seem an undue hardship for an unintentional traffic violation?

We have no quarrel with the necessity of towing away illegally parked cars or fining their owners. What we do wish is for sufficient and adequate signs so that we out-of-towners who are not intimately familiar with St. Louis can easily know what the traffic rules are.

Also it would seem that the towing company could accept a check from someone with sufficient and proper identification in order to spare them such distress as this situation caused.

Since this incident I feel great apprehension about driving to St. Louis lest I might unwittingly break some traffic regulation.

Mrs. Cecil J. Hiland

A Democratic Candidate

I want the Democratic nomination to run for the United States Senate in opposition to Everett M. Dirksen. My platform has only four planks, one of which is: Declare war on Cuba.

The first foothold of Communism in the Western Hemisphere is now only 90 miles from our shores. This country laid down the Monroe Doctrine. We should either declare war upon Cuba for nationalizing the property which belonged to the American people in that country or we should withdraw and publicly renounce the Monroe Doctrine.

If I am elected to the office of the United States Senator from the state of Illinois, my first act would be to introduce a resolution for the declaration of war upon Cuba, and offer to the Cuban people the opportunity to become a state or two states in the United States of America. Zeno Middleton

That's Why

A reader in a letter to the editor on May 16, 1961, wondered why the planners of the co-ordinated mass transportation system have left out the railroads. The answer is obvious. They have left themselves out. It is difficult to include an industry in space-age planning which has been so unwilling to leave the Gay Nineties. E. E. E.

The Shade of Jay Gould

The proposals in Congress to suspend further approval of railroad merger plans until the end of next year would do no good that we can see, and could do a great deal of harm, as the Interstate Commerce Commission is warning. Nevertheless, Representative John B. Bennett of Michigan and the authors of similar measures now being heard by the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee have reason to be disturbed by the form and direction rail merger moves have been taking. We think Representative Bennett is correct in saying that domination of market areas is being sought and that the long-range transportation needs of the country are being disregarded.

Admittedly, the ICC faces a difficult choice. If it entangles rail merger negotiations in its red tape from start to finish, it will strangle them, as has usually been done in the past. If it goes too far in the other direction, and keeps hands off until the deals have fully matured, it may find its area of judgment largely foreclosed.

The record to date is not reassuring. The struggle between the Chesapeake & Ohio and the New York Central for the Baltimore & Ohio has been an all-out stock battle with few holds barred. The Norfolk & Western's bid to take over the Nickel Plate and the Wabash looks more and more like an effort by the Pennslyvania to build an unchallengeable empire, as the New York Central, seeking to intervene, charges. In the West, the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific are locked in battle for the Western Pacific, with the Union Pacific occupying much the same position of alarmed outsider that the Central occupies in the East.

If merger maneuvers continue in this way, which the editor of one trade publication, Trains magazine, has referred to as "Jay Gould-like," the whole idea of merger may come into so much public disrepute that Congress will have to stop or drastically limit it.

There is abundant evidence that no less drastic a medicine than mergers is going to cure the railroads' financial ills.

The rail transportation system of the country is an irrational hodge-podge which has just growed. In earlier years it was prosperous enough to afford the waste involved and still earn profits, but the luxury can be afforded no longer.

The present situation offers the railroads the opportunity of several lifetimes to bring coherence into their routes and operations. It is an opportunity which, if lost now, may not soon be repeated.

If railroads bent on merger will not proceed with peaceful negotiations and a sense of responsibility to the larger interest, the ICC ought to stop them promptly, at the first sign of their getting out of line.

If the ICC thinks its authority from Congress to handle the situation is inadequate, it ought to ask Congress for whatever further powers may be necessary to do the job.

The pending proposals in Congress are in essence votes of no confidence in the way the commission is letting rail merger develop. Today they are straws in the wind, but, if unheeded, tomorrow they may be bales.

Built for Billboards?

Shouts of billboard lobbyists at times drowned out testimony at an Illinois House Roads Committee hearing. With such obstreperous advice, the committee ignored esthetic considerations, highway safety and an estimated $4,400,000 federal bonus for regulating signs along interstate highways. One example of the opposition was provided by a farmer-legislator who argued that the measure would "take away part of my livelihood." Does anyone seriously believe that the public builds new roads to create a livelihood for billboard interests?

Fortunately, the next day the bill was brought to life again before the full House, as a result of a parliamentary maneuver. The Illinois situation is similar to that in Missouri, where a House committee held a hearing that was more decorous but the fate of the billboard bill more certain.

Next week, however, petitions carrying thousands of signatures in behalf of billboard regulation on new roads will be presented to House members. The Highway Commission, garden clubs, other groups and individuals will have a new opportunity to see who controls our roadsides. If the legislators think the public does, the bill will be revived.

The Blame for Cuba

Just what role did the Joint Chiefs of Staff play in the Cuba fiasco? The question demands a precise answer from investigators of the affair. While President Kennedy bears full responsibility for it, the people are entitled to know also who advised him to back the ill-starred invasion.

Columnist Doris Fleeson says CIA Director Allen Dulles has assured a Senate subcommittee that the Joint Chiefs of Staff approved the invasion. Mark S. Watson of the Baltimore Sun says "there seems no warrant for thinking that the Joint Chiefs had any active role." Chalmers Roberts, an able reporter for the Washington Post, says a major share of the White House wrath has moved from the CIA to the Joint Chiefs, and that Mr. Kennedy now has grave doubts about top Pentagon military leaders. Senator Gore, after hearing testimony from Gen. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, said all the members should be replaced.

Mr. Roberts relates that a number of Pentagon officers were assigned to work with the CIA on the project, and that when the plans were presented to Mr. Kennedy after he assumed office "it was no cursory affair." The meeting room was lined with maps of landing places, diagrams and logistic tables. Gen. Lemnitzer and Adm. Burke, Chief of Naval Operations, gave the President "a written, signed opinion that the operation made sense militarily." Mr. Roberts writes:

> It was this elaborate Pentagon approval, on top of the CIA's expressed expectations of a Cuban uprising to support the invading force, which apparently led the President to swallow whatever doubts he may have had. And so he gave the go-ahead.

Mr. Roberts could find only one man, Chairman Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who was unalterably and forcefully opposed on principle to the Cuban adventure, though Arthur Schlesinger Jr., a presidential aid, was less outspokenly opposed. Senator Fulbright argued his case before a meeting of top Administration leaders—he even predicted accurately what would happen—but got no support. It is satisfying to know that the facts are being ferreted out and evaluated, not for the purpose of finding a scapegoat but to make sure nothing like the Cuban affair happens again.

Let the Universities Do It

The revised state representative redistricting plan put forth by the County Council's Democratic majority is in one important respect a decided improvement over the original Democratic proposal. But it still falls short of what it ought to be.

The big advantage of the new plan is that it accommodates itself quite reasonably to the spirit of the constitutional prescription for districts as nearly equal in population as may be. Its districts run from a low of 47,157 persons to a high of 51,790, or from about 6 per cent below the ideal district size of 50,252 to about three per cent in excess of it. In the original plan they varied from about 34 per cent less than ideal to 12 per cent above it.

Unfortunuately, however, the districts are nowhere nearly so compact as it ought to be possible to make them. As a whole, they suffer far more from jig-saw effects than those drafted in the original proposal, although that one too failed to pass a reasonable test for compactness. Evidently this comes from an excessive regard for township lines. Since townships in St. Louis county are primarily units of party organization, it seems clear that the Democratic draftsmen were motivated more by political considerations than by a desire to produce compact districts.

Do the Democrats want to come up with a district map that meets the constitutional tests and is fair to both parties as well? A first-rate redistricting might help the party recapture some of the prestige it lost after it took control of the courthouse two years ago.

A fair plan requires detachment. Human nature being what it is, the Democrats cannot be reasonably detached in this matter; nor could the Republicans if they happened to be the majority party at the moment. What the Democrats could do is to ask the political science departments of Washington and St. Louis universities, say, to draft a strictly nonpartisan plan. No plan will be perfect, but a university-drafted redistricting is much more likely to be first-rate than one drawn up by men who have a vested interest in advancing the fortunes of their political party. Why not let the universities do it?

Mr. Adams's Footnotes

Remember Sherman Adams? Way back in the Eisenhower Administration he was the assistant to the President, that is, until he accepted too many gifts from Bernard Goldfine, millionaire industrialist now in tax trouble with the federal government. Well, Mr. Adams's inevitable memoirs are coming to light. Life magazine is publishing the first episode this week. They provide a few curious footnotes to history.

One of them does no credit to former President Eisenhower. It involves the deletion from a 1952 campaign speech in Milwaukee of a laudatory reference to Gen. Marshall, the one man above all others to whom Gen. Eisenhower was indebted for his successful career. Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin had been vilifying Gen. Marshall as not much better than a traitor. Mr. Adams says Gen. Eisenhower was "smoldering with resentment" at the abuse of his friend and patron by McCarthy. Nevertheless he curtly assented when Mr. Adams recommended that the passage making his feelings clear be cut out.

The other point deals with the "objectivity" of one of the nation's large news-gathering agencies, the United Press. In March 1956, just after the convalescent Mr. Eisenhower agreed to run for a second term, Merriman Smith, veteran White House correspondent for the U.P., sent out a report quoting the President as saying in a private conversation, "I had to say Yes because they (his political advisers) told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate." The story was hastily killed by Mr. Smith's superiors on the flimsy pretext the remark was "out of context," even though the reliable Mr. Smith vouched for it. Now Mr. Adams, five years later, confirms that the question accurately summarized the political situation in the White House. This was something the voters were entitled to know, and something an enterprising reporter tried to tell them.

Recognizing the Needs of St. Louis

Since the authority of St. Louis and St. Louis County to work out their problems is so circumscribed by state law—and state law which to a considerable degree is out of date—there may be merit in the proposed Missouri Senate-House committee to study problems of the city and its suburbs.

In suggesting this committee, Representatives Geary and O'Reilly, both of St. Louis, emphasized especially "possible constitutional and statutory changes" necessary to deal with the proliferation of the area's political subdivisions and the inability of a good many of them to provide "full and adequate governmental services." If the resolution is adopted, the committee would begin its work at the end of the present session and report at the opening of the 1963 session.

The disadvantages of 100 city halls within one organic community ought to be obvious. Yet the defeat of the district plan, to which the two St. Louis representatives referred, suggests that no matter how the shoe pinches, acceptable relief may not be presently available. It would be a boon to the urban area and to the state which depends on it to so large an extent if the proposed committee could evolve a viable form of integration.

However, the Legislature has gone through the motions of "studying" the metropolitan problem before, and nothing has come of it. Would not Mayor Tucker's suggestion for a permanent and broader committee on state-city relations prove more useful? Such a group, made up of legislators, municipal officials and non-public members, could conduct a continuing investigation of the needs which stem from accelerated urbanization, the balkanization of urban areas, and their difficulties with a state government which has not fully caught up with the changes in Missouri's population pattern.

Above all else, such a group could work to bring about harmony and co-operation where all too often there is ill considered hostility between city halls and the state capitol and within the metropolitan community itself.

"JUST WANT TO GIVE YOU A LITTLE BALLAST, BOY."

Answer to Doubled Enrollments

Junior College Bill Offers Missouri One Way to Meet Huge Wave of Students

An Editorial in
The Kansas City Times

Bills in the Missouri Legislature to establish a system of state junior colleges could set a pattern for higher education in Missouri for generations to come. The Senate bill has been perfected for final passage and the House has passed its measure. The purpose of the plan is efficiency and economy. With the enormous waves of students on the way, the legislators apparently sense the urgency of the situation. There simply isn't much time left.

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Full-time enrollment in existing institutions is expected to double by 1971. An increase of 139 per cent is forecast for 1975. And these are conservative estimates. The educators know and the taxpayers realize by now that expansion is inevitable. The question concerns the method of expansion. At best, growth will be expensive. The great opportunity for reducing costs lies in an orderly, efficient expansion, designed to stay as close as possible to needs.

—The Courier-Journal, Louisville.

The junior college plan for Missouri offers a program of local-state cooperation that could bring economy and quality. Junior college districts would be established by a vote of the people in one or more existing school districts. Financing would come from local tax support—voted by the people—and from student fees. The state would provide $200 per year for each full-time student. As written, the state aid would bring badly-needed help to the qualified junior colleges already in existence. Virtually all of them are crowded to the ceilings now. It should be understood that state regulations would insist on quality education.

The junior college system is in no way a substitute for traditional learning or a shortcut to a degree. Essentially, it would permit students to attain two years of education at or near home at much lower cost to themselves and to the schools. Many of course, would continue their education at schools offering the bachelors' and other degrees.

The junior college plan can decentralize facilities and at the same time meet high educational standards. In the long run, it could save Missouri millions of dollars and put the state in a position of strength to meet the continuing enrollment demands. Approval of the junior college plan might some day stand as one of the great achievements of the 1961 Missouri Legislature.

Controversy on the Air From An Address by Parker Wheatley

Parker Wheatley, KMOX-TV public affairs director, spoke to the Institute for Education by Radio-Television at Columbus, O.

No TV or radio station—commercial or educational—can claim any legitimate excuse for not adequately informing citizens on issues vital to the community which it is licensed to serve. And adequately informing citizens does not mean the sheer repetition of spot announcements about the Mother's March, Radio Free Europe, blood banks and all the perfectly worthy, but safe and relatively effortless causes which every station can espouse. Nor the filmed and packaged public affairs programs — free — but with a hook at the end.

Nor does it mean repetitive news broadcasts of murders, rapes, fires, holdups and numerous other items of so-called headline news. Nor the occasional hour-long documentary designed primarily for Ohio State, Peabody or du Pont. It even means something above and beyond station editorials, which indeed are a clear responsibility of all stations, commercial and educational alike.

Informing citizens on vital issues requires regular, continuous, year-round examination of important topical and controversial issues before the community, by the persons involved in debating and examining them. I am convinced, both as a matter of policy and production, that a station can most adequately inform citizens on vital issues by presenting the people who raise and resolve these issues in any given community.

This requires fresh, thoughtful, adventurous programming every week of the year. And it requires a fair and balanced representation of the diverse groups who constitute a community—representatives of the little people as well as the big. Representatives of the community's people regardless of race or creed or color. Representatives of the unpopular as well as the popular view on controversial issues—the First Amendment is a good guide! Representatives of groups reluctant to be counted, as well as the eager.

Thus at its best, a station should be a place to think and speak—a citizens forum—in addition to its appropriate functions as reporter, instructor and entertainer. In elegant terms, I am advocating that broadcasting make itself increasingly an integral part of what Robert Hutchins has called "the civilization of the dialogue." It it does not—there may be no civilization, no dialogue, no broadcasting.

Between Book Ends Spitfires, and Other Friends

AMERICAN COMBAT PLANES, by Ray Wagner. (Hanover House, 447 pgs., $9.95.)

SPITFIRE—THE STORY OF A FAMOUS FIGHTER, by Bruce Robertson. (Harleyford Publications Ltd., distributed in the U. S. by Aero Publishers, Inc., 210 pgs., $8.50.)

WARPLANES OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR—FIGHTERS, Volume I, by William Green. (Hanover House, 192 pgs., $2.75.)

FAMOUS BOMBERS OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR, Volume II, by William Green. (Hanover House, 136 pgs., $3.95.)

In the past 18 months or so, those interested in military aviation have been most fortunate. There has been a series of books published dealing with a wide range of planes used by military forces of most major powers, some of them going back to the era before World War I.

These books have at least two things in common, in most cases a wealth of accurate detail and a substantial number of excellent illustrations. Some deal with just one specific plane, and do it with extreme thoroughness. "Spitfire—The Story of a Famous Fighter" is one of these. Others take a few planes of a single country or a cross-section of a given type from a number of nations. The volume on bombers and fighters of World War II are examples of these.

The Spitfire, in addition to being a tremendous fighter plane for its time, was one of the most graceful aircraft that has been designed. It bore much of the burden in the Battle of Britain and, in the course of its military career, earned a devotion on the part of its pilots and ground crews that almost equaled that usually reserved for a close friend. One of the attractive features of Robertson's book is a color reproduction of a painting by J. D. Carrick showing one of these beautiful planes in battle dress, making a gentle turn while accompanied by two other Spitfires.

When combined with the earlier Volume I, the two books on bombers by Green take care of most of the planes in this class used in World War II. The books include three-view drawings, sample camouflage designs and numerous photographs, as well as physical dimensions and a wealth of technical and general information. As such, they should be valuable for builders of model planes as well as those interested in the general subject because of past military service or other reasons.

The book on fighters is the first of three volumes on this type of plane to be released. It includes aircraft of Australia, Belgium, Bohemia-Moravia, Finland, France and Germany. The organization of volumes by countries seems a bit more logical than Green used with the bombers, where there seemed to be no particular effort to group planes by any particular system. Otherwise the treatment of fighters follows the same general pattern as the bombers, and is equally good.

"American Combat Planes" is in a class by itself. It gives exhaustive detail on the United States entry into and development of military aviation. All branches of the military forces are included, and it is thus a particularly useful reference work.

A tremendous number of photographs has been assembled to illustrate the book, with the co-operation of the Department of Defense. Not only is the development of planes traced, but also the evolution of the function of military aviation itself.

To a great extent the book is a history of all aviation as much as military flying, since private and commercial aircraft have constantly drawn upon the military services' experience. If a single book on the subject is to be bought, I'd say this should be the one because of the breadth of the material. And that shouldn't be taken as downgrading any of the others, since all are excellent and well worth having. David Wallis

ARMED FORCES WEEK PARADE DOWNTOWN

More than 6000 persons in 60 marching units participated in a 90-minute Armed Forces Week parade this afternoon in downtown St. Louis.

The parade, starting from Twelfth boulevard and Washington avenue, was led by the band of Scott Air Force Base. Among groups taking part were 400 soldiers from Fort Leonard Wood, 500 National Guardsmen, cadets, band members and drill teams.

Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison, commanding general of the 102nd (Ozark) Infantry Division led nine units of the division. Miss Donna Jean Sarginson of Alton, Miss Armed Forces, rode in a special float with four other young women representing other branches of the armed services.

The parade also included the Kemper Military Academy of Boonville, Mo., color guard, and Black Lancers of the Marine Corps and 30 Moolah Shrine Mounted Lancers.

Open house activities were held today at Scott Base, opening with a concert by the Belleville Township High School band.

Thirty paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division, Fort Campbell, Ky., were to parachute from C-119 Boxcars at Scott base this afternoon. The paratroopers, all former residents of the area, were to be dressed in full combat garb for simulated tactical combat maneuvers after touching down in the drop zone.

JOSEPH MOHLMAN REPLACED ON CAHOKIA WATER BOARD

Joseph Mohlman, who is aligned with the political faction headed by Supervisor Francis Touchette of Centreville, has been replaced as a member of the seven-man board of the Cahokia Commonfields Water District, it was announced yesterday.

The action was taken by St. Clair County Judge William P. Fleming, who appointed the Rev. Guy L. Jackson of Cahokia as Mohlman's replacement. Mohlman had been appointed to a five-year term in February 1959.

A majority of the board voted about a week ago not to reappoint Mayor Rudy DeBourge of Centreville as manager of the district. Mohlman and Monroe L. Flinn, another Touchette man, voted for DeBourge. The new manager is Joseph LiVigni of Cahokia. Judge Fleming is a political ally of Mayor Alvin G. Fields of East St. Louis.

STUDENTS' NEW-TYPE SIT-IN: AFTER HOURS IN LIBRARY

OXFORD, Miss., May 20 (AP) —A new kind of sit-in at the University of Mississippi library was halted by campus police.

About 75 students stayed through the library's 5 p.m. closing time yesterday until the officers ordered them out 50 minutes later. A student spokesman said the protest was against the library's abbreviated weekend hours, especially with examinations coming up next week.

Chancellor J. D. Williams said he was delighted by the protest. "I'm all for it," he said.

GEORGE W. MALONE

EX-SENATOR MALONE OF NEVADA IS DEAD

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Former Republican Senator George W. (Molly) Malone of Nevada, a tireless exponent of greater tariff protection for American business, died yesterday of cancer. He had been in the hospital since May 12. He was 70 years old.

In his 12 years in the Senate, Malone compiled a record of opposition to the reciprocal trade agreements law and of support for greater federal aid to spur domestic minerals production.

Mr. Malone was defeated for re-election in 1958 by Senator Howard W. Cannon, (Dem.), and made an unsuccessful bid for Nevada's lone congressional seat last year. He served in the Senate from 1947 to 1959.

He was the first practicing licensed engineer ever elected to the Senate. He started a firm of construction engineers about 40 years ago. After leaving the Senate he worked as a mining engineer with offices in Washington and in Reno.

Surviving are his wife, Ruth; a daughter, Mrs. Michael J. O'Connor of Tucson, Ariz., and two grandchildren.

Mr. Malone's death was announced to the Senate by Senator Alan Bible, (Dem.), Nevada, and brought expressions of sorrow and tribute from several Senators.

Senator Malone was an earnest speaker and often held the floor for hours to belabor the reciprocal trade agreement law and senators who supported it.

In the Senate, he opposed most foreign aid programs, including the Marshall plan.

On another major postwar issue, the Taft-Hartley act, Mr. Malone voted against it, arguing that there should be no national labor legislation.

THOMAS S. BRONENKAMP FUNERAL TO BE MONDAY

Funeral services for Thomas S. Bronenkamp, a retired fireman, will be Monday at 9:30 a.m. at the Schumacher undertaking establishment, 3013 Meramec street, with burial in Valhalla Cemetery.

Mr. Bronenkamp, 74 years old, died Thursday at Helvey Nursing Home in Fenton. He retired in 1953 after 40 years as a fireman. He was assigned to Engine House No. 3 at Broadway and Salena street for 20 years before his retirement.

Surviving are a son, Edward Bronenkamp; two sisters, Mrs. Millie Barron and Mrs. Gertrue Sandoe; two stepsons, Frank Roland and Richard Burg, and a stepdaughter, Mrs. Nellie Verdu.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR RANDELL J. SLACK

Private funeral services for Randell J. Slack, president of Slack Furniture Co., were held today at Lupton undertaking establishment, 7233 Delmar boulevard, University City. Burial also was private.

Mr. Slack, 63 years old, died of a heart ailment yesterday at St. John's Hospital. The furniture company was founded by his father, Richard A. Slack, more than 60 years ago. Mr. Slack lived on Woods Mill road, Chesterfield.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Grace E. Slack; a daughter, Mrs. Donald J. Etzkorn; a son, Richard A. Slack, vice president of the company, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Slack, all of St. Louis.

FUNERAL IN TENNESSEE FOR MRS. BETTIE R. BROWN

Funeral services for Mrs. Bettie R. Brown, superintendent of the St. Louis Christian Home for Children for 45 years, were held today in Hartsville, Tenn. Burial also was there.

Mrs. Brown, who was about 80 years old, died Wednesday of a heart ailment at her home in Carlsbad, N.M., where she had been living since her retirement from the staff of the home in 1951. She had been superintendent since 1905. She had lived in the home's grounds at 3033 North Euclid avenue.

ACTRESS GRACE GEORGE DIES

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP) — Mrs. Grace George Brady, who acted on Broadway for more than 50 years under the name of Grace George, died yesterday. She was 81 years old.

MARYVILLE COLLEGE EXERCISES ARE HELD

Neutrality of government in religious matters should respect the preference of an individual without depriving him of social welfare benefits, Richard J. Childress, professor of law at St. Louis University said yesterday.

Childress spoke on "Private Schools and Public Aid" at the eighty-ninth commencement exercises of Maryville College. Degrees were awarded to 64 seniors in the ceremony at the campus, 2900 Meramec street.

The graduating class was the last at the Meramec campus. The college, operated by the Religious of the Sacred Heart, will move to a new campus between Conway road and U.S. Highway 40, east of Woods Mill road, St. Louis county. The present site will be used for a private school for boys which will be operated by the Augustinian Fathers.

"Increased public expenditures for education not only places private schools in a difficult competitive position, but it forces the parents of students who have chosen private schools to forego a share of the vast and ever greater benefits distributed by the state," Childress declared. "Many parents just cannot afford both tuition and public school taxes."

It is one thing, he said, to sacrifice to maintain an educational system — it is another thing to sacrifice education to maintain a system. It is a paradox that Americans, devoted as they are to human freedom, "have not seen the full implications of their principles of religious liberty," Childress said.

The Federal Government has made direct grants, sponsored research programs and provided long-term, low-interest rate loans to private schools, Childress stated. The "striking conclusion," he continued, is that one policy of neutrality is found at the college level and another at the primary and secondary levels.

True neutrality, the law professor said, must recognize the importance of parental choice and the place of religious education in American life.

Cardinal Joseph E. Ritter conferred the degrees and the Very Rev. Paul C. Reinert, S. J., president of St. Louis University, presented the candidates for the degrees.

RETIRED Y.M.C.A. LEADER IS GIVEN FUNDS FOR TRIP

Funds for a trip to the Middle East were given to the Rev. James E. Cook, executive secretary of the Pine Street branch Y.M.C.A. for 19 years before his retirement last May 1, at a testimonial dinner for him at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel last night. Mrs. Cook will accompany him.

The former "Y" secretary was praised by many speakers for his support, and participation in civic, educational, religious and community affairs. About 750 persons attended.

The Rev. Mr. Cook, who is pastor of Antioch Baptist Church, had been a staff member of the Pine Street Y.M.C.A. since 1922.

HAROLD REICHERT FUNERAL

Funeral services for Harold Reichert, deputy clerk in the police courts here since 1946, were held today at Sts. Mary and Joseph church, Holly Hills boulevard and Minnesota avenue. Burial was in Calvary cemetery.

Mr. Reichert died Wednesday of cancer. He was 54 years old. He lived at 6425A Minnesota. Surviving is a brother, LeRoy Reichert.

News of the Churches in the St. Louis Area

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS TO CONVENE HERE

By JOHN T. STEWART
Church Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Southern Baptist Convention will hold its annual meeting at Kiel Auditorium Tuesday through Friday. Delegates, called "messengers," will represent more than 32,000 churches with a total membership of more than 9,700,000.

A major item of business will be the election of a new president to succeed the Rev. Dr. W. Ramsey Pollard of Memphis, Tenn., who has served the constitutional limit of two one-year terms.

A Southern Baptist editor has stated that a preconvention informal poll shows three pastors are the most likely candidates for president. They are the Rev. Dr. Herschel H. Hobbs of First Baptist Church, Oklahoma City, Okla.; the Rev. Dr. W. O. Vaught Jr., now first vice president of the convention and pastor of Immanuel Baptist Church, Little Rock, Ark., and the Rev. Dr. Roy A. McClain of First Baptist Church, Atlanta, Ga., president of the Baptist Pastors' Conference. The Rev. Dr. McClain received a large vote for convention president at the 1959 meeting at Louisville, Ky.

Integration Resolution.

When Southern Baptists last met in St. Louis in 1954, the decision of the Supreme Court ordering public school integration was the nation's top news. A recommendation, ultimately adopted, from the convention's Christian Life Commission concerning the court ruling provoked the liveliest debate at the session. The convention, by an overwhelming vote, refused to delete the commission's recommendation which recognized the Supreme Court's decision as being "in harmony with the constitutional guarantee of equal freedom to all citizens, and with the Christian principles of equal justice and love for all men."

The resolution, as adopted, urged Christians "to conduct themselves in this period of adjustment in the spirit of Christ," and urged support of the public school system.

The adoption of a 1962 budget is another major point of business. The convention's executive committee will recommend a budget basically the same as for 1961. The operating expense total of the Co-operative Program will be the same — $13,938,500. Only the amount of capital needs would be increased, from $4,575,000 to $5,075,000. The total proposed budget is $19,013,500. This covers only national and international programs of the convention.

Name Change Sought.

At nearly every annual meeting somebody asks that the name of the Southern Baptist Convention be changed. Southern Baptist pastors serving churches in Minnesota and Wisconsin have complained that the term Southern is a handicap in the North. But no substitute name yet suggested appears to have gained any substantial support. If a change in name is presented here next week, it could note be debated until 1962.

Convention officers expect resolutions on church-state issues to come up. Baptists are opposed to government tax support for church-controlled schools including their own.

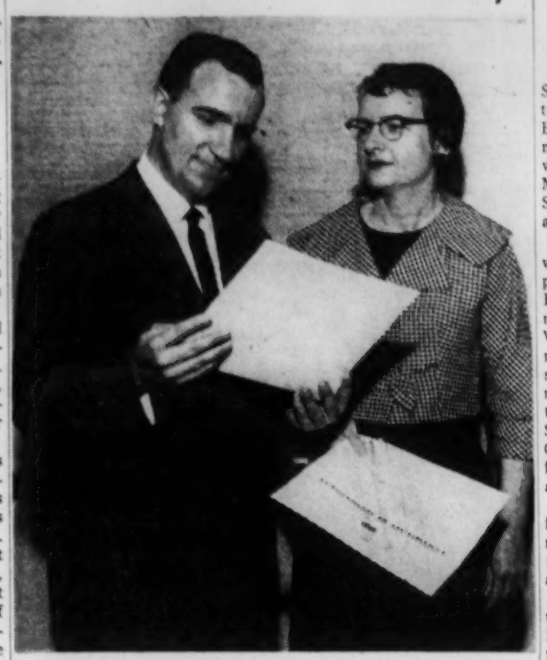

The convention will open Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. At 8:30 p.m. the annual convention sermon will be delivered by the Rev. A. B. VanArsdale of Decatur, Ala.

The Rev. Dr. Pollard will give his final address as president at noon Wednesday.

The meeting will close Friday at 8 p.m. with a sermon by the Rev. Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of First Baptist Church, Dallas, Tex.

The convention proper will be preceded by four preconvention meetings Monday and Tuesday—the Southern Baptist Pastors' Conference, the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union of the convention, a conference on church music and another on religious education.

On Mission to Germany

THE REV. and MRS. JAMES G. STERTZ, newly appointed missionaries to Germany, examine their appointment certificates at Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board headquarters at Richmond, Va.

BAPTISTS WARN OF RAIN, CHILL AND PARKING TICKETS

Baptists coming to St. Louis next week for the Southern Baptist Convention are on notice to look out for possible wet and chilly weather, parking tickets and vandalism.

Baptist Press, Nashville, Tenn., has issued the following warnings:

"St. Louis has experienced a wet spring, with still a chill in the air. If this continues, conventiongoers should be prepared. While a topcoat probably isn't necessary in late May, you may need some protection from rain or evening cold.

"Drivers, watch out for the no parking zones on streets during morning and evening rush hours. As in most cities, these are towin zones if police catch you there from 7 to 9 a.m. and from 4 to 6 p.m. Cars will be towed in and drivers will not only have a parking ticket but a towing charge to pay for.

"Police also warn motorists: Do not leave valuables inside your cars even though locked. Also, women pedestrians at night should be accompanied by someone, they should not go along the streets alone, police caution."

CARDINAL RITTER SERVES COMMUNION TO CHILDREN

Cardinal Joseph E. Ritter visited St. Louis Cathedral last Sunday and distributed to the children of the confirmation class their first Communion. It was the first time he had done this.

Cardinal Ritter celebrated the 8 a.m. Mass and, following the Mass, conferred the sacrament of confirmation on the children.

The confirmation of adults from the archdiocese will take place at the Cathedral tomorrow at 2 p.m.

BAPTIST PAIR AMONG 19 NEW MISSIONARIES

The Rev. and Mrs. James G. Stertz have been appointed Baptist missionaries to work among English-speaking people in Germany. He was born in Maplewood, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stertz, who came to St. Louis from Germany soon after the turn of the century.

The Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Stertz were among 19 missionaries appointed by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board at its recent meeting at Richmond, Va. In addition to their regular missionary work, they will also serve as the board's fraternal representatives to German Baptists. They will be the first Southern Baptist missionaries to Germany. He has spent the past four years recruiting missionaries for the board.

The Stertzes will take their four children with them to Germany: oJseph Karel, 13; Kathryn Gail, 11; James G. Jr., 9, and John Christopher, 4.

The Rev. Mr. Stertz is a graduate of William Jewell College, Liberty, Mo., and Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Stertz is a graduate of Tift College, Forsyth, Ga., and holds a master's degree in religious education from the Carver School of Missions and Social Work, Louisville, formerly the Woman's Missionary Union Training School.

He has a brother and two sisters in St. Louis county: Arthur L. Stertz of Webster Groves, Mrs. John E. Senne of Maryland Heights, and Mrs. S. Nill Mohler of Glendale.

ASSOCIATE PASTOR NAMED FOR KIRKWOOD METHODISTS

The Rev. Harrison L. Peyton has been appointed associate minister of Kirkwood Methodist Church by Bishop Eugene M. Frank. He has been pastor of the Methodist Church, Galatia, Ill., for three years.

In his new post, the Rev. Mr. Peyton will devote much time to work with youth, pastoral visitation and membership. He will also share other pastoral duties with the minister of the church, the Rev. Val B. Strader.

The Rev. Mr. Payton is a graduate of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, and Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill.

HOWARD PYLE WILL ADDRESS LAYMEN

United Church Men of Greater St. Louis will hold their annual Pentecost Communion service and breakfast tomorrow. The speaker at the breakfast at the Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel will be Howard Pyle of Chicago, president of the National Safety Council, a Baptist layman and former governor of Arizona.

The Communion service will be held at Centenary Methodist Church, Sixteenth and Pine streets, 7 to 7:40 a.m. Bishop Eugene M. Frank of the Methodist Church, president of the Metropolitan Church Federation, will give the sermon. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Amos Ryce II, pastor of Lane Tabernacle C.M.E. Church; the Rev. Dr. O. Walter Wagner, executive director of the Church Federation, and the Rev. Dr. John H. Crowe, pastor of Centenary Church.

The Protestant men will march from the church to the hotel, where the breakfast meeting will begin at 8 a.m. J. Clinton Hawkins, president of United Church Men, will preside.

Pyle served two terms as governor of Arizona; 1951-55. From 1955 to 1959, he was deputy assistant to the President of the United States for federal-state relations. He served as a news correspondent in the Pacific area during World War II.

Pyle is a co-founder of the Grand Canyon Easter sunrise broadcasts, which he has directed and narrated since 1935.

He was elected president of the National Safety Council Jan. 13, 1959.

Sadecki's Four-Hitter Wasted as Cards Bow to Cubs, 1-0

Pop-Fly Double Produces Lone Run

By Neal Russo
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

CHICAGO, May 20—The Cardinals' new No. 4, Jim Schaffer, must wonder today whether he was wise to leave at Portland the bats he used to hit .379 and earn a shot at the varsity.

The single-minded Redbirds waved their baseball bats like cornstalks when Schaffer watched them for the first time yesterday. In fact, the rookie perhaps should borrow his lumber from Ray Sadecki, his minor league roommate, who suffered through a 1-0 loss to the Cubs.

Sadecki singled twice to lead the Cardinals' so-called attack as their record for one-run decisions fell to 2-9 and they lost their fifth straight.

Schaffer May Play.

The lefty may have to lend Schaffer his bats today, for Jim probably will open against Dick Ellsworth, who will face Larry Jackson.

Even though Manager Solly Hemus's club outhit the Cubs, 7-4, the St. Louis bats didn't produce any more noise than the home-made bomb that was supposedly planted in the Wrigley Field pressbox.

When Chicago police received an anonymous call, a bomb expert was rushed to the park midway in the game. The report proved a hoax.

Because Old Sol burned up Old Solly, the Birds' third straight one-run loss at least was different.

After Al Heist singled in the first inning, he should have been retired easily at second. But it was a steal for Heist because Carl Sawatski, starting for offensive reasons, bounced the ball to second.

Thus when George Altman struck out, there was still one out to go. Ernie Banks then popped up and shortstop Daryl Spencer lost the ball in the sun. Spencer hadn't yelled to Ken Boyer or Julian Javier to take the play, so as Dee fell to the ground, the ball did too. Heist scored on the cheap double, a minnow that baseball-whaler Banks could well afford to throw back in.

Sadecki, pitching his best game in the majors, allowed just two hits after that, one a scratch infield safety. He struck out seven, walked two and lowered his earned-run mark to 2.37.

Hunch Fizzles.

A Hemus hunch, Boyer leading off instead of cleaning up, fizzled as Ken was held to one harmless single and Stan Musial, elevated to fourth, bounced into two double plays. The Man tagged the ball hard on the second DP.

However, in the ninth Musial touched off a scare with a leadoff single. When Red Schoendien came to bat, there were two out, and a man on second because of a wild throw by Don Zimmer.

Schoendienst lined a drive over Hobbie's head but the ball stayed up long enough for Heist to make a low catch.

A little later, a sad Hemus heard an announcer scream on the car radio, "Big news, fans, Cubs finally win."

The driver thoughtfully changed stations.

Redbird Notes.

Hussmann's No-Hit Game Gives Ferguson Victory; Kirkwood Defeats Ladue

Senior Harry Hussmann, a righthander, pitched a no-hit game as Ferguson defeated Canton, 9-0, in a Missouri state regional tourney baseball game at Blanchette Park, yesterday afternoon. In the other quarterfinal, Kirkwood won from Ladue, 11-3.

Ferguson (16-4) meets Sikeston (11-4) and Kirkwood (15-4) opposes Central High of Springfield (7-5) in the semifinals at Busch Stadium, June 2.

Hussmann struck out six and walked three. The victory gave him a 3-1 record. It was his first no-hitter.

Denver Miller's Kirkwood team tallied its 11 runs before Ladue closed the seventh inning with a three-run attack.

Roger Schmidt hit a two-run homer for Kirkwood in the fifth. Tucker started off Ladue's rally with a home run.

Belleville nosed out Triad, 8-7, for the right to meet Wood River in the Illinois sectional Monday at Staunton. Ted Harvey, striking out 15 batters in 6⅓ innings, was relieved by James Dill in the seventh.

Illini Triumph

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., May 20 (AP) — Illinois kept alive its hopes for the Big Ten baseball championship yesterday with a 6-3 victory over Michigan State behind the five-hit pitching of sophomore Doug Mills.

Beaumont Favored In Finals

By Dave Lipman
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff

COLUMBIA, Mo., May 20 — Long after the preliminaries on the Missouri Class A high school track meet were over yesterday Coach Bill Miller of defending champion Beaumont still appeared as concerned as he had before the Bluejackets put a spike on the rust-colored track at Memorial Stadium here.

Even though he was not at all confident about the chances of his team being awarded the first-place trophy at the end of today's finals in the fifty-ninth annual meet, many of his fellow coaches were.

"If they're so sure we're going to win, just have them send the trophy over to our hotel and we'll call off the finals," said Miller in a worried tone last night.

It is possible that Miller was overly concerned. Not one of the 64 other teams in the meet had qualified more than the five listed for Beaumont. But it also was possible that he wasn't being too pessimistic. Three other teams—Soldan, the indoor champion; University City, runner-up to Beaumont in last year's outdoor, and Kansas City Central — also had qualified five each.

Kansas City Central, despite its five qualifiers, apparently was crippled severely when its 880-yard relay team was disqualified for passing the baton outside the zone.

Central's foursome was timed in 1:29.7, three-tenths of a second under the State Class A record of 1:30. With Central out, O'Fallon Tech, timed in 1:30.3, was declared winner of the heat and Affton was awarded second place, also good enough to qualify. Soldan and Beaumont each had 1:30.4 timings.

There were two record-breaking performances in the preliminaries. George Woods of Sikeston, who set the indoor shot-put record of 60 feet, 4¼ inches, broke the outdoor mark of 49-3⅛ in the preliminaries. And St. Joseph Central's Dennis Brown shattered the discus mark of 161-1 with a heave of 170-4.

Leading qualifiers were U. City's Bob Stratton in the high and low hurdles and broad jump, where he had the best leap in the preliminaries, 22-5; Ernest McCraney of Kansas City Central, who qualified in the 100, 220 and broad jump and Soldan's Dan Crousby, in the 220, low hurdles and as a member of the 880-yard relay team.

And there also was Affton's Wayne Hermen, the diminutive dashman who almost single-handedly made his team a contender for at least fourth place.

Hermen qualified in the 100 (with the fastest time of 9.9), in the 220 (with the fastest time of 21.8) and anchored Affton's qualifying 880 relay team.

Bears End Season With 8-7 Victory; Billikens Lose to Memphis State

By Harold Tuthill

Washington University ended its baseball season all too soon. At least that was the opinion of the Bruin followers who saw Irv Utz's Bears win their seventh straight as they beat Memphis State, 8 to 7, in 10 innings yesterday afternoon at Liggett Field.

In an earlier game at Busch Stadium, Memphis State won its sixth in a row by edging St. Louis U., 3 to 2.

Washington gained its fifteenth triumph off the third Memphis pitcher, Buddy Townsend, who got into trouble by walking Dick Hopkins to open the tenth. Dick Yates drove a long hit to left which hopped over the fence for a ground rule double. Townsend was then replaced by Willie Dean Smith. He walked Pete Origliasso, who had delivered key blows earlier.

Smith also walked Paul Hatz, forcing home Dick Hopkins with the winning run after 3:25 of play.

Victor in the long struggle was freshman Tom Eckelman, who ended the season with an 8-0 record, one of the best in school history. Starter Bill Neumann was touched for four hits and three runs in the seven innings he worked.

The Bears finished with a 15-5-1 record, also one of the best ever compiled by an Utz-coached team.

St. Louis U. was less fortunate as it went down to its sixteenth loss. The Billikens had a good chance to tie the score in the eighth when Don Spencer whacked a triple to left center. Lee Pelligreen, who had two singles earlier, popped out. Then Spencer was retired when he attempted to steal home.

Southpaw Joe Hill improved his performance to 5-1 as he improved Memphis State's record to 12-5. The defeat was charged to Jim Butler, 0-4.

Missouri Stops Oklahoma State's 21-Game Streak

STILLWATER, Okla., May 20 (AP) — Missouri stopped a 21-game winning streak by Oklahoma State yesterday by beating the Cowboys, 7-1, in the second game of a Big Eight baseball doubleheader.

Oklahoma State, which had already wrapped up the conference title, won the first game, 2-1.

Jim Estes's grand slam home run in the seventh inning of the second game was the big blow in the Cowboy defeat.

Oklahoma State's Jim Dobson spoiled a shutout for the Tigers' Larry Bohannon by smashing a home run in the seventh.

Bruce Andrew drove home both runs in the opener for Oklahoma State. Jim Wixson won his ninth straight game of the season, scattering seven hits.

Intercity Soccer Game Here Tonight

By Dent McSkimming

The Chicago-St. Louis soccer rivalry that dates back to the turn of the century is the basis and the reason for tonight's meeting of two all-star teams at Public Schools Stadium. The match is not part of a national title tournament nor is it an intercity league game. But it will be treated by both sides as though it were a national final.

Fast Track for Duel Of Carry Back and Crozier in Preakness

BALTIMORE, May 20 (AP)—A fast track and perfect weather conditions prevailed today for the eighty-fifth running of what promises to be one of the most exciting Preakness races, with nine colts scrapping for gold and glory.

Jack Price, trainer of favored Carry Back, might have described the end of the mile and three-sixteenths race.

"I hope it's a five-horse blanket finish and that Carry Back's nose is in front," he said.

Carry Back's habit of winning after a mad rush has put him in the lead for the three-year-old championship of 1961.

An original investment of $700, the son of Saggy has earned $512,868 for Mrs. Katherine Price, and he will be shooting for another $126,200 as first prize in the Preakness.

The bulk of his earnings this year have come at the expense of Crozier, who will be taking another crack at him. Carry Back beat Crozier in two $100,000 races in Florida and then in the $125,000 Kentucky Derby, May 6.

Chuck Parke, who trains Crozier for Fred W. Hooper, refuses to view the Preakness as only a match race with Carry Back.

"You have to watch all of them," he advised.

He meant Dr. Miller, Sherluck, Globemaster, Hitting Away, Crimson Fury, Nashua Blue and Orleans Doge. "Their owners aren't putting up $1500 to race for nothing," Parke reasoned.

When the betting is over, the fans are expected to make Carry Back close to an even money favorite with Crozier second choice. After that, there will be a lot of nail biting over whether to put down a deuce on Globemaster, Sherluck or Dr. Miller.

The nine colts will reach the starting gate around 4:45 p.m. (St. Louis time). KMOX-TV and KMOX Radio will carry the race.

FOUR ON FCC TESTIFY AGAINST REORGANIZATION

WASHINGTON, May 20 (AP)—Four of the seven members of the Federal Communications Commission say they oppose President Kennedy's plan for reorganizing the FCC.

They told a House government operations subcommittee yesterday that they fear the plan would give too much power to the FCC chairman, Newton N. Minow.

Minow sat through hours of testimony while several witnesses warned that he would become a one-man ruler of the commission and a censor of televised programs if Mr. Kennedy's plan were adopted.

Minow, calling such fears groundless, told the subcommittee the changes are necessary to clear up an "abominable" administrative situation caused by too much red tape.

Mr. Kennedy's proposal would give Minow greater authority to assign personnel and duties. The President made similar suggestions to reorganize the Federal Trade Commission, the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Appearing yesterday in opposition to the plan were FCC commissioners Frederick W. Ford, Rosel H. Hyde and Robert T. Bartley. All testified the Kennedy plan threatens the independent status of the commission and downgrades the commissioners.

A fourth FCC commissioner Robert E. Lee, filed a statement along similar lines.

Siding with Minow were Commissioners T.A.M. Craven and John S. Cross.

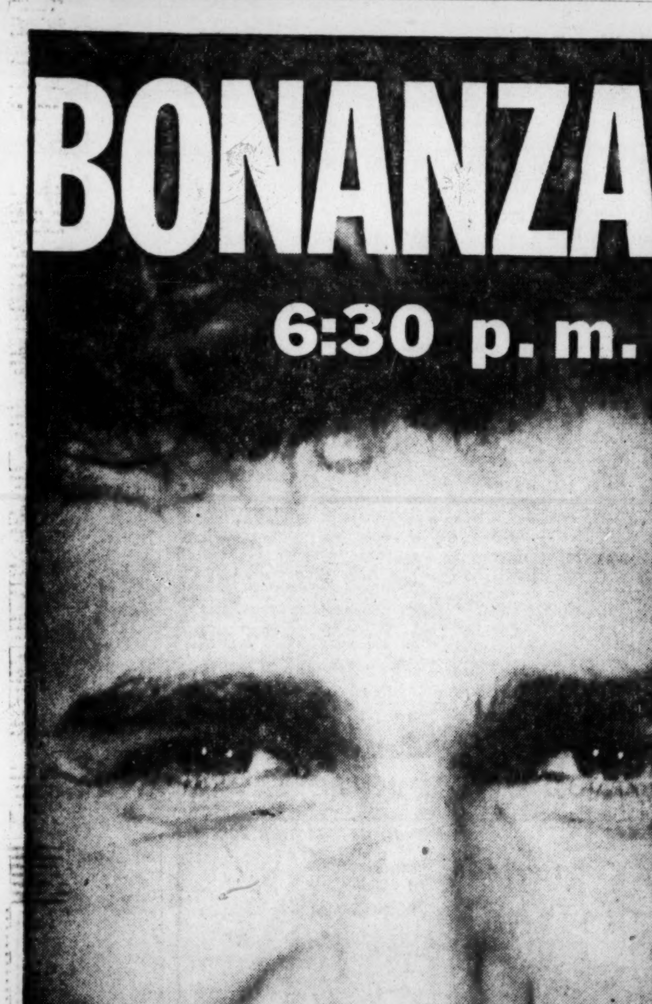

Minow said the FCC, which licenses stations, has become a "sacred cow" among Government agencies. Reorganizations plans for other agencies meet little opposition, he said.

Responding to earlier testimony by members of Congress that he might become a television censor, Minow told the subcommittee he has "no interest whatever in the content of any particular program."

He said, however, that the FCC has had an interest in the general subject of programming for some time.

In a recent speech to broadcasters, Minow termed much of current TV a "vast wasteland" from the viewers' standpoint.

He told the subcommittee the chief reason for streamlining FCC operations is to free commissioners from routine matters.

MORSE CLAIMS UNITED FRONT ON SCHOOL AID

WASHINGTON, May 20 (UPI) —Senator Wayne Morse (Dem.), Oregon, floor manager for the Senate's aid of education bill, said today that defeat of one major substitute had helped create a united front which can push President Kennedy's plan to passage.

Morse referred to the 50-to-33 vote by which the Senate rejected a Republican-sponsored alternate formula for apportioning school aid funds among the states. The substitute measure was rejected yesterday at the end of a long session which began at 9 a.m.

Morse noted that the two Republican sponsors of the defeated allocation formula long have supported the principle of federal aid of education. They are Senators John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Jacob K. Javits of New York.

Rallying of All Forces.

"Defeat of the Cooper-Javits amendment now rallies all forces in the Senate who support federal aid to education—in principle—behind a united front to carry the bill to a successful conclusion," Morse said.

The school aid bill is designed to give the states $2,550,000,000 over a three-year period, for building and staffing schools.

Other strategists agreed a significant victory was achieved in the formula fight. Some said the bill is "over the hump" in the Senate. However another pending proposal has been offered by Senator Prescott Bush (Rep.) Connecticut, which would—in effect—deny funds under the bill to states with segregated schools.

Similar amendments sponsored by Representative Adam Clayton Powell (Dem.), New York, have been enough to kill education bills in the past.

Morse said, though, that he would continue to oppose major amendments to the bill. His comment appeared to fit the pattern which has seen supporters of the school bill oppose amendments which would inject the explosive segregation issue.

Another Rejection Likely.

It appeared likely the Senate would vote down Bush's version of the Powell amendment and then reject a second attempt to include assurances that school aid funds could not be withheld under the bill as a lever to force school desegregation.

Abraham Ribicoff, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has given repeated assurances that the Administration believes authority for such an action is not included in the bill.

The Cooper-Javits plan would have counted only public school children in determining states' allocation. As it stands, the Administration measure would determine each state's share on the basis of its income and total school population, including parochial and private schools.

Cuba

reports that the United States was considering dealing through the Red Cross, but that this was not necessary. "We don't need intermediaries," he said, adding, "Mr. Kennedy now has the floor."

When he made the disclosure, Castro had been in the midst of a speech to Cuban government officials, foreign diplomats and unionists. They were attending a meeting to celebrate his winning of the Lenin peace prize.

Accuses CIA in Sinking.

He startled his audience when he said the Cuban navy had evidence that a launch that disappeared May 6 with a loss of 17 lives had been sunk by "a submarine of the Central Intelligence Agency."

He said that prior to the disappearance of the launch, the navy had received an SOS saying, "They sank us, they sank us."

The Prime Minister said the most important prisoners now in Cuba would be returned last, but only after he had received the last lot of bulldozers.

He offered to trade the leader of the invasion forces — Capt. Manuel Artime — for Francisco (the Hook) Molina, a Cuban now awaiting sentence in New York City on a second degree murder conviction.

Molina was convicted of killing 9-year-old Magdalena Urdaneta of Venezuela in a shooting between pro- and anti-Castro elements in a Manhattan restaurant.

First Americans Returned.

The first American prisoners repatriated from Castro's Cuba, including the last United States reporters there, arrived in Miami last night.

Fifty-two Americans were in the group of 101 passengers who arrived aboard a chartered airliner. Also aboard were 46 Cuban refugees.

The Americans included four reporters, five Catholic priests and three nuns.

There were cheers and applause when many of the repatriates walked from the plane. Some refused to identify themselves, explaining they feared for the safety of relatives still in Cuba or for property on the island.

Algeria

peace talks. Three other imprisoned rebel leaders were taken from Fresnes prison in Paris this morning.

The long-awaited peace negotiations opened in a secluded hotel guarded by hundreds of heavily armed policemen.

The initial session lasted an hour and 40 minutes. The only announcement made by either side afterward was that the next meeting would be held here Tuesday.

Facing one another across the table were Algerian nationalist Foreign Minister Krim Belkacem and French Minister for Algerian Affairs Louis Joxe.

Krim and his delegation arrived aboard three helicopters from across Lake Leman in neutral Switzerland.

Joxe drove up in a limousine preceded by another carrying Jean Verdier, director of France's Surete and the nation's top policeman.

At a press conference later, Joxe said the initial session was devoted to an exchange of statements by both sides.

He said he had told the rebels France envisions a new Algeria "sovereign within and without," but insisted a vote by the people of Algeria must be held to decide the fate of the territory.

In general, President De Gaulle has instructed Joxe to negotiate for an Algeria that will be independent yet linked with France through cultural and economic ties and guarantee the safety of the 1,000,000 Europeans in the vast territory.

Although the French and the rebels agree in principle that the future of Algeria should be decided through self-determination there are many major obstacles to putting the principle into practice. One such obstacle is whether the oil-rich Sahara is to be treated as an integral part of Algeria.

In Algeria and Paris, streets were noisy with the bombings and shootings by European settlers opposed to the peace negotiations and Algerian rebels agitating against the French.

Nearly 30,000 soldiers and riot police guarded the port city of Algiers after a night of violence in which 23 bombs and grenades exploded. The only reported casualties were two passersby injured by a grenade.

To the west, Oran was reported quiet after a savage fight in the center of the city last night. Troops and police fought European settlers protesting against the opening of the peace talks. (United Press International said 32 persons were injured.)

European settlers, angered because Switzerland is the host to the Algerian rebel peace delegation, invaded the Swiss consul's office in Oran last night and burned his files.

Heavily armed French troops broke up the mob after the rifle butts and tear-gas grenades of riot police could not cope with the demonstrators' stones, bricks and debris.

The outbreaks spread through Constantine and Bone in eastern Algeria, Mostaganem in western Algeria and even reached French Foreign Legion headquarters in Sidi bel Abbes.

The wife of a city official in Bone was cut by flying glass from a bomb tossed at the entrance of their home.

Downtown Algiers was a huge traffic jam as security forces searched automobiles and checked the identity of drivers. Parking was forbidden on the main thoroughfare so that riot squads could move swiftly if violence broke out.

3 COUNTY MEN FINED TOTAL OF $750 FOR SHOOTING GEESE

Three St. Louis county men were fined a total of $750 yesterday by United States District Judge Randolph H. Weber who found them guilty of hunting and shooting Canada geese out of season last April 11.

Edward A. Mertz, a carpenter, 4 Baxter lane, Chesterfield, was fined $300; Ralph Null, an excavator, Grover, was fined $250, and Arnold Hoffman, carpenter, Chesterfield, $200.

The government contended the three men were at Mertz's home when a flock of the migratory geese landed on a pond on Metzi's property. Each man allegedly shot and killed two of the birds.

COUNTY FARMER KILLED BY FALLING TREE LIMB

John R. Essen, 70 years old, was killed yesterday when he was struck by a falling tree limb on his farm on Missouri Highway 109, near Chesterfield.

Andy P. Hatz told St. Louis county police that he and Essen were cutting down a dead tree with a chain saw. As the tree fell it struck another tree, knocking off a branch.

The branch, about 30 feet long and 11 inches in diameter, struck Essen on the head and left shoulder. He was pronounced dead at County Hospital.

DRIVER IS KILLED AS AUTO OVERTURNS

A man was killed and another was seriously injured early today when an automobile overturned in the 13000 block of Missouri Highway 21, in south St. Louis county.

County police said George E. Mitchell, 42 years old, 4416A North Nineteenth street, was pinned beneath the machine after apparently losing control when traveling south at high speed. The automobile left the highway, went more than 250 feet in a ditch and turned over twice.

Mitchell was pronounced dead at County Hospital. A companion, Derrel M. Kontz, 34, of 11009 Ivan avenue, St. Ann, suffered fractured ribs and collarbone, internal injuries and lacerations. Both men were employed as coil winders at the Wagner Electric Co.

Summit Talks

the achievement of world peace."

The official Communist press in Hong Kong paid little attention to the meeting, but pro-Communist and anti-Communist newspapers alike said it was doomed to failure.

"Kennedy cares more for war than for peace talks," said the pro-Red Commercial Daily. Almost every anti-Communist newspaper in the British crown colony agreed that Mr. Kennedy's prestige will suffer and that the meeting will not produce peace.

The Hong Kong Times said past summit sessions have "done irreparable damage to the free world." The Kung Sheun Daily News, also anti-Communist, said: "This is just not the right timing to bargain with Khrushchev."

The meeting was welcomed by most Western diplomats in Moscow.

It was likely to please the rank and file of Russians who a month ago were listening apprehensively to a hot exchange between the two world leaders over Cuba.

After accusing the United States of engineering the Cuban exiles' ill-fated invasion of Cuba, Khrushchev told President Kennedy in a letter April 22:

"Mr. President, you are following a dangerous path. Ponder that."

The Tass news agency said the meeting of President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev "will provide a timely and good opportunity for improving the international climate."

This was not a direct reaction from Moscow but was contained in a report from the agency's correspondent in New York.

In Geneva, the forthcoming meeting was welcomed as an opportunity to remove the obstacles blocking agreement on the creation of a unified, neutral Laos. This was the view expressed by diplomats of the Western, neutral and Communist delegations at the 14-nation conference on Laos.

Pedestrians

Traffic control signals must also be obeyed.

761 Victims "Jaywalking."

The traffic survey showed that 761 pedestrians killed or injured last year were jaywalking and 456 were crossing at intersections, Henry said. Ten were struck when walking in a roadway with traffic and 195 were struck when walking against traffic.

Nine were struck in safety zones, 24 entering or leaving vehicles, 12 pushing or working on vehicles in the street and 42 when playing in the street.

More than one half of the pedestrians injured in 1960 were under 15 years old and about one half of those killed were over 54.

Considerable Cloudiness

—Associated Press Wirephoto.
Low temperatures and areas of precipitation expected tonight.

Considerable cloudiness with little change in temperature is expected over the weekend in the St. Louis area, the Weather Bureau said today. A possibility of scattered showers in some areas of Missouri and Illinois tonight and tomorrow was forecast.

Cloudiness and light rain kept temperatures down yesterday in the two-state area. Cairo, Ill., and Joplin, Mo., each recorded highest readings at 70 with most areas reporting highs in the 60s.

Scattered showers and drizzle fell last night in an area from western Nevada and southeastern Colorado to the northern Texas panhandle. Light rain fell through the central plains and in portions of the northern plains and central and upper Mississippi valley.

Torrential rains and thunderstorms struck northwest Texas yesterday, causing floods and some property damage. Hail and high winds uprooted trees and snapped utility lines. Several tornadoes were sighted but none was reported to have touched ground.

Cooler weather is expected in the central plateau region and sections of the north Pacific coast and western Carolinas. Little temperature change is forecast elsewhere.

Heating degree days in St. Louis yesterday, 8; the month, 159; the season, 4972.

Security Check

Police roadblock, backed by blow-out barriers, in force yesterday on outskirts of the French resort town of Evian-les-Baines as part of the tight security measures taken for the peace talks between France and the Algérian rebels. Formal negotiations got under way today in an effort to end more than six years of bloodshed and terrorism that have marked the fight for Algerian independence.

White House Friend

Gleaming bald head covered by elaborate headgear, House Speaker Sam Rayburn fishes in the rain from the seawall of the Kennedy estate at Palm Beach, Fla. Picture was taken by Mrs. Kennedy and was presented to Rayburn at the White House yesterday. It bears the inscription "The fish haven't got a chance. Affectionately, Jacqueline Kennedy," and "and neither has the House of Representatives, John Kennedy."

The Peoples of Russia

By Ramon Coffman

A SCHOOL CLASS has asked: "What is the location of White Russia?"

White Russia is a region in European Russia, to the east of Poland and to the north of the Ukraine. Like most of the other people in Russia, the White Russians belong to the white race.

Q. Who are the Great Russians and the Little Russians?

A. They belong to the main groups of Russians. The Great Russians live chiefly in the central and north-central parts of European Russia. Moscow and Leningrad are among the cities of these people.

Next in number are the Little Russians. These live chiefly in the Ukraine, but also include the Ruthenians.

Q. How many Russians are members of the white race, and how many are Mongoloid?

A. In round figures, 80 per cent of the Russians are white. Less than 20 per cent are Mongoloid. There are so few Negroes in Russia that they hardly count.

Q. If 80 per cent of the Russians are of white stock, why do we hear so much about the scores of Mongoloid groups in the U.S.S.R.?

A. Those groups live chiefly in Asiatic parts of Russia. They are picturesque, and photographs of them have been printed widely in the western press. To some extent they are wandering tribesmen, who take care of flocks and herds.

Great Russia (often called RSFSR) contains 117,000,000 persons, and the Ukraine has 41,000,000 persons, according to the 1959 census. These two parts of Russia with people almost entirely of white stock, make up 76 per cent of the total Russian population.

Fix It Yourself

By Hubbard Cobb

TODAY WE TAKE UP the subject of painting iron and steel because unless we keep fixtures made of these metals painted, they will rust.

To paint iron or steel that has not rusted, simply wipe the metal down with some benzine or turpentine to remove grease and then coat with a zinc chromate primer. A metal primer of this sort is essential to achieve a good bond between the paint and the metal.

If you simply slap a few coats of metal enamel over the bare metal it probably won't stay for long. You've got to use a metal primer and on new metal zinc chromate is about the best.

After the primer is dry, apply the finish coats of paint. For interior metal you can used any sort of paint even a flat wall paint. For outside use, use a special enamel designed for this sort of work.

If the metal has never been painted and has rusted, the first job is to remove as much of the rust as you can. This can be done with a wire brush and with sandpaper or emery cloth. The primer to use on metal that has rusted is a red lead primer.

Many of these special primers can be used over rusted metal if the loose rust has first been removed. It is not necessary to remove all traces of rust. Red lead primers dry rather slowly so wait for several days or even a week before applying the finish coats of paint which are the same as used over zinc chromate primer.

With many previously painted objects you'll find that in certain spots the paint is failing and the metal underneath is rusting. What you want to do here is first chip away all the loose paint right down to the metal. Remove the rust and sand the edges of the surrounding paint so that they are tapered. Now apply the primer and when this is dry several coats of finish paint.

You can save yourself a lot of extra work by checking outside painted metalwork from time to time and catching spots where rust has started under the paint before it becomes too extensive.
